VARSIITY GIRLS ELECT STAFF

Of Editors and Managers for Special
Women's Edition of the Oregon Weekly

A meeting of the co-eds of the University was called Wednesday afternoon in Villard Hall for the purpose of nominating and electing officers for the Women's edition of the Oregon Weekly, to be published June 1st. This is a custom followed by Eastern Colleges and will be introduced as an annual event with this year's edition. It gives the women a chance to be active in Student Body affairs, besides being very beneficial, in the way of training and experience.

This edition will be perhaps twice as large as the ordinary paper and will be teeming with news and good cuts. The officers elected were:

Editor-in-chief, Miss Emily Muir '08; Associates: The Misses Frances Ober-teuffer, '10; Jessie Chase, '08; Cora Cameron, '08; Pearl Hawthorne, '10; and Francis Young, '11. By a unanimous consent, Miss Agnes Beach, '09, was chosen for manager, with Miss Miss Isolene Shaver, '10, as her assistant.

Freshman Rhetoricals.

The annual freshman rhetoricals will take place next Wednesday evening, May 27. All the numbers on the program—literary as well as musical—will be handled by members of the freshman class.

The old custom of holding annual freshman rhetoricals will thus be re-introduced, giving the first year students an opportunity to appear in public as well as the other three classes who appear annually in Sophomore rhetoricals, Junior orations and the Senior Failing and Beekman oratorical contests.

Everybody is cordially invited. No admission will be charged.

An article on the meeting of the student body last Wednesday failed to reach the Weekly office this week hence it is omitted.

The gate receipts of the Junior Prom will bring the class out even on the Junior week end, without necessitating an extra tax.

Order of the "O"

The Order of the "O" was formed last Tuesday evening at a meeting called for that purpose by the student members of the Athletic Council. The membership of the new order is to comprise only men who have won their emblems at football, track and baseball. It is modelled after a like organization at Chicago University and the University of California. The officers of the society are:

C. A. McClain, '06, president; P. W. Reid, '09, vice-president, and Oliver B. Huston, '10; secretary.

A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and report in a week. The society will probably meet only once a year, at commencement time. It will have for its object the securing of the best and soundest conditions in University athletic life.

Nearly all of the Junior Beavers have been distributed. The Roycroft edition will soon be ready for delivery. Those who have not obtained their books or paid their class tax will find a welcome reception from the managers.

C. A. Steele, who was in Portland last week on account of the severe illness of his mother, has returned to Eugene.

Rev. H. N. Mount spoke at Y. M. C. A. last Friday night, finding his text in the 42d Psalm. The Lyans-Devereaux string quartette furnished some special music.

The University of Oregon Law School defeated the University of Washington in debate on Saturday night on the question of the advisability of the initiative and referendum. A Seattle jury gave the decision by a vote of two to one.

Ralph and Jay Reynolds of O. A. C. visited Ben Grout, '09, on Saturday.

A coming musical event is the recital to be given soon by the pupils of Mr. LeRoy Gesner.

The week end guests of the Sigma Nus were Dr. Ziegler, Hon. C. N. McArthur, and Messrs Moore, Beck, Stewart, Huston, Dart, McGuire, Charlton, and Aulton.

Miss Aileen Brong, ex. '10, is visiting Eda Humphrey, '09. She will return home Wednesday.

OLEN ARNSPIGER ASSISTANT

Elected to Help Coach Forbes With
The Football Team of 1908—Four Years an Oregon Tackle

Olen Arnspiger, '07, has been elected assistant football coach for the coming season. Arnspiger's record as the headiest football player in the northwest made the choice of the athletic council an easy one. The council has decided that there will be no Vancouver trip for Oregon track athletes. Manager Bean has been empowered to take eight men to the Portland meet, June 6. If there are eight men who desire to enter that contest Oregon will be represented. Most of the athletes are more or less indifferent about entering a club meet, and it may be that no team will enter. The Seattle trip for Decoration Day will be made with twelve men, which means that two of the regular track team will have to remain at home.

Ward L. Ray, '08, went to Portland on business Friday, returning Sunday evening.

Arthur Merrick, editor of The Collegian Magazine, spent Monday and Tuesday looking after the University interests of his publication.

Chas. Erskine, '10, was visited last week by his father, Rev. W. M. Erskine of Coburg.

Miss Hazel Bean, '11, left Sunday morning for Portland. Thence she will go to Seattle to see the fleet.

Mrs. Harry Lane of Portland spent the week end with Miss Harriet Lane, '09, at the Klosche Tillacum House.

Miss Moorehead of Junction visited Miss Olivia Risley at the Klosche Tillacum House last week.

Some Salem high school girls who were here to attend the prom were Miss Jennie Frye at the Tau Pi House and Misses Eckerlin, Elliot, and Walker at the Zeta Iota Phi.

H. Moore of O. A. C. visited his cousin, Harvard Moore, Friday and Saturday.

W. L. Whittlesey, '10, writes from Princeton, where he is an instructor, praising highly the literary and forensic work of the students registered from Oregon.
