HAYWARD OFF FOR LONDON

Will Attend Olympic Games and See
Dan J. Kelly Try for New World Records

Bill Hayward has gone to London. After long and effective service in the training of Oregon's athletes, he is to take three months' vacation and will improve the opportunity to attend the Olympic games. There he hopes to see Dan J. Kelly, whom he developed and trained, beat the world's record in the hundred yard dash and in the broad jump. Hayward will not proceed directly to London, but will go first to California, where he will visit for several days. Bill Hayward, Jr., will remain in the land of oranges until his father's return.

"Bill" expects to reach New York about June 28 and will sail shortly afterward.

Never since Hayward got well established in his office in the gym, has Oregon suffered defeat on the track. "Our Bill" with his black satchel has been a familiar figure at every football game, sprinting across the field to assist a wounded player or distributing cold, refreshing douches from his big sponge in the faces of friends and foes alike. He has developed awkward giants into champion weight throwers and lean and lank freshmen into record-breaking junior sprinters. The physical tone of the entire student body has been raised by the example and precept of the Oregon trainer.

The four hundred dollars which the student body pays Hayward will probably suffice for the trip. As his salary has been raised $300 by the University for the coming year, the trip will come nearly in the nature of a present from the members of the institution. This is customary in the California colleges.

While away, Mr. Hayward will study the latest apparatus for gymnasium equipment that he may intelligently and economically order the "trimmings" for the new gym. He will be back in time to train a winning football team for Coach Forbes next Fall.

O. A. C. awarded gold medals to all its debate and oratorical representatives this year.

Engineering Club

The Engineers Club met last Tuesday and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President, Robert E. Hickson, '09; Vice-President, Paul W. Reid, '09; Secretary, Ethan A. Collier, '09; Treasurer, Walter M. Eaton, '09; Sergeant-at-arms, William Rueter, '10.

These officers will hold during the entire year of 1908-9. They are all men who have, by faithful work, earned the distinction conferred upon them.

The Junior table of the Dormitory enjoyed a spread at the Hoffman House last Friday evening, on the eve of the departure of one of their number Mr. Geo. Talbert for his home at Hood River. Present were Jesse H. Bond, Harold C. Merryman, Harvard C. Moore, George Talbert, D. L. Lewis, R. U. Steelquist, E. F. Strong, and Earl Kilpatrick.

Arle R. Hampton is visiting at the Delta Alpha House.

The University has been fortunate in securing Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart for an address during Commencement week.

Students who are going before commencement and who desire their grades should not neglect to leave a stamped self-addressed envelope with the Registrar.

STUDENTS ARE SCATTERED

Thomas R. Townsend, '09, will be employed with the mercantile firm of Loomis Bros. at Newport.

Don Stevenson, '08, will probably go to South America on an engineering project.

Arthur Van Dusen, '10, will receive fish at a cannery on the Columbia River.

Clarence Whealdon, '10, will be employed on his father's farm near Shedd.

Ben Huntington will teach next fall in Eugene High School.

Merle R. Chessman, '09, will spend his leisure hours at Pendleton.

Oliver B. Huston, '10, will read law in his father's office in Portland.

The Y. W. C. A. conference delegates will go to Seaside Thursday.

HURD AND HUSTON ELECTED

To Head Baseball and Track at the University of Oregon—Both
Chosen Unanimously

Track and baseball will be headed next year by Oliver B. Huston, '10, and Lee Hurd, '09, respectively. Both elections which were held last week were unanimously in favor of the elected candidate. Both captains are popular in the University and proficient in their respective lines of athletic endeavor. Huston, although he will be but a junior next year, will be serving his last year on the track, as he ran for Pacific University before coming to Oregon. Huston is generally recognized as the premier sprinter of the Northwest. Six times during the past season he has run the hundred yards in ten seconds.

Lee Hurd, the new baseball captain, has played three years on the team. He has perhaps the best winning record in Oregon baseball history.
