Social a Success.

The joint meeting of the Christian Associations to new students was given in the reception rooms of the Dormitory, Friday evening. The affair was very successful and a large number of students was assembled.

Never before has the attendance at a joint reception been so large. Not a few alumni were present. The freshmen were there in full force. There was no embarrassment evident. On the contrary, everybody met everybody else, and had a general good time.

No formal program was rendered, but songs were sung during the evening. The reception room was simply decorated with autumn leaves. Pineapple sherbet was served by Miss Frances Oberteuffer, Miss Bertha Dorris and Miss Helen Beach.

Many improvements are being made on the O. A. C. campus. Several professors have been added to the faculty.

Several women students at California are in danger of expulsion because of leap year evening calls. They blacked their faces and otherwise disguised themselves, and then called in a body upon the various fraternity houses.

A college book store has been installed in the Administration Building at O. A. C.

Theo. P. Holt writes to subscribe for the Weekly from Salt Lake City, where he is attending the University of Utah.

Several new arc lights have been installed upon the campus.

Seven of the championship eleven of O. A. C. are back in college this fall.

W. Reid has returned to college. He spent the summer in Yellowstone Park.

The British Medical Journal has found the true type of American manhood in the college football and baseball player.

Prof. I. M. Glen spent the week end in Portland to secure new music for the Glee and Mandolin Clubs.

Several students at Pullman were seriously injured September 25, by falling seventy-five feet through the inside of a smoke-stack upon which they were trying to paint their class number.

Laurel Inman visited Daryl Belat and Alice Stoddard, '11, Thursday and Friday of last week.

A. R. Moore, '09, has returned to college.

Harold Clifford writes from the University of Michigan that he is pleased with his work there.
