starts Training Table

Coach Forbes started the training table last week at Otto's Grill. Only eleven men were accorded places to begin with, but this number will be increased to the maximum limit of sixteen men, as fast as players show a sufficient degree of merit. The men express themselves as well pleased with the fare with which Hayward is providing them. Aside from the training table, strict training rules are being observed by all the men on the squad. As it is generally considered that Oregon's hope of victory can be based only on the perfect condition of the men, every member of every team has been cautioned to exercise the greatest care in eating, to keep early hours, and to work hard and conscientiously.

First Rally Friday

The first football rally of the season is billed for Kincaid Field, Friday evening, in honor of the alumni game. C. N. McArthur, S. H. Friendly, Walter Winslow, I. M. Glen, E. H. McAlister and others will speak. The procession will leave the Dormitory at seven o'clock. A bonfire will be furnished by the freshmen.

Ernest E. Jones, '10, has reentered the University. His home is Caldwell, Idaho.

The Dormitory Club has decided to install a new piano for the convenience of its members.

The Alpha Club has a mascot of the canine species.

Letters from alumni favor the plan of the establishment of a semi-weekly and ask for more athletic news.

The Y. M. C. A. has placed college post cards on sale at the book exchange. A full line of Oregon pennants and armbands is expected soon.

Marean Hurd and Chas. Erskine suffered slight injuries on the football field last week, but are now none the worse for wear.

A typically Varsity audience attended the "Royal Chef" at the Eugene Theatre Tuesday night.

Robert Hickson, '09, has returned to college after a summer spent in practical work.

Registrar Tiffany has been taking a vacation of several days to prove up on a timber claim.
