

FACULTY MEMBERS BANQUET

Hold Their Regular Bi-Weekly Meeting at Otto's Grill Where They Discuss Matters of Interest

The Faculty club of the University of Oregon held its regular bi-weekly session at Otto's Grill last Tuesday evening. In addition to the usual program the caterer was asked to provide an introductory number. Half an hour was spent in pleasant conversation before the guests sat down to the table. The main feature of the evening was an address by Dr. Schafer on "Research Incidents." The speaker told in an interesting way of his manoeuvres to gain access to the documents in the Public Record office in London and of the extreme precautions taken by the British officials to prevent the publication of certain state secrets. He also indicated in a general way how some of the facts recently brought to light are bound to modify accepted notions with regard to early Oregon history and particularly with regard to the character and ability of Dr. John McLoughlin.

At the conclusion of the address, the project of a faculty club house was discussed. President Campbell introduced the subject by pointing to the lack of a suitable home for the homeless instructors and indicating some of the advantages that a club house would have for members of the faculty. Mr. Bovard, Dr. Leonard, Professor Dunn and others, joined in the discussion and sentiment seemed to be favorable to an undertaking of this sort. A committee will be appointed to gather data and to make recommendations at a meeting to be held some time in December. The University campus is thought to be the most suitable location for a building of this sort, but it is not known at present what attitude the regents will take toward a lease of University ground for this purpose.

Laureans Debate Statement No. 1.

Interest in the meetings of the Laurean Literary Society is steadily on the increase. The meeting held last week was well attended, and the program was very good. Jesse H. Bond gave a talk upon preparation for debate in which he emphasized the need of a thorough and systematic study of the question. A string trio consisting of Cecil Lyans, Roscoe Lyans and Buford Roach, entertained the society. This is a new but interesting feature of the program and may be continued in the future. The debate was on the question: "Resolved, that Statement No. 1 should be in vogue throughout the United States." The affirmative team, consisting of Irvin, Aubrey Bond and Stastney, defeated the negative team, Osterholm, Johns and Lyans. The censor's report delivered by Jesse Bond was exceedingly good, being very complete and specific in criticism.

Registrar A. R. Tiffany made a week-end trip to Portland, returning Monday.

Bryan Workers Form Club.

One hundred men of the University met last Monday night and organized a Bryan and Kern Club. The club plans to do active campaign work. Its elected officers are: President, J. LeRoy Wood, '09; Secretary, W. C. Nicholas, '10; First Vice-President, Earl F. Strong, '09; Second Vice-President, W. I. McIntyre; Third Vice-President, Virgil Cooper; Fourth Vice-President, C. MacC. Snow.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

"Friendship" was the topic discussed Tuesday at Y. W. Livia Bond, '09, was leader. The meeting was poorly attended as was also the one a week ago at which Dr. Schafer gave an address. The officers of the association feel that the interest and value of the meetings deserve a better attendance. A large attendance, they say, will not only encourage the leaders, but will result in good to all who attend. An effort is made to make the meetings worth while. Girls become better acquainted there, and really lasting friendships are formed.

Monthly Will Be Out Soon.

The Oregon Monthly will be out the last of the present week. Tardycuts and advertisements are the reason for the delay. Coach Forbes contributes to the first issue an article upon Oregon's football prospects. Ruth Balderee writes in an interesting way of the girls' convention at Seaside last spring. In addition there are some clever stories. The editorial page, from the pen of Miss Ruth Hansen, will be a strong feature of the publication this year.

Indian Massacre at Chemawa.

The red-skins took the scalps of the Oregon second team at Chemawa on Saturday by the score of 5 to 0. A punt recovered behind the goal line by an Indian made the score. The braves excelled in kicking only, the Oregon men outclassing them in every other department of the game. The Oregon defense showed particularly strong, Chemawa making but three yards through the line. Oregon's offense was not sufficiently perfected to make yardage consistently. The hard ground and the terrific onslaughts of the savages bruised the Oregon men considerably. Stein received a broken collar bone, while every man on the team shows marks of the fray. Hawley, Stein, Kestley and Means were the most consistent ground-gainers. Smith, a Carlisle veteran, starred for the Indians.

E. H. S., 0; Freshmen, 0.

Strong defense on both sides, and lack of offense on either side, resulted in a scoreless game between Eugene High School and the University freshmen on Kincaid field Friday afternoon. Forbes kept several freshmen stars out of the game in anticipation of the Willamette game. E. H. S. played a plucky game and excelled in punting.

THE PAST WEEK IN SOCIETY

A Resume of the Events of Social Interest by the Society Editor—Several Brilliant Affairs

A pretty dancing party was given in the evening after the Alumni game by the Beta Epsilon girls for their guests, Miss Dobie and Miss Frances Brady.

Friday afternoon the girls of the Tau Pi sorority entertained the members of the faculty and their wives in honor of the guests of the sorority, Miss Grace Foulds and Miss Lena Reddington of Berkeley. At the reception the engagement of Miss Kays to Mr. Jacobs of Chicago, was announced. Miss Kays will leave in two weeks for Chicago, where the wedding will take place.

The first concert given this year by the University School of Music was a piano and song recital at Villard Hall on Friday evening. Miss Campbell, director of the vocal department and Miss Morgan, of the piano department, rendered a splendid program, the numbers of which were as follows:

Punch was served during the evening on the dancing porch off the music-room and delicious ice was passed around in the dining room. The affair was well attended and many beautiful gowns were in evidence.

Miss Perkins Spoke to Eutaxians

At Eutaxian Society, Miss Perkins gave a most interesting description of life at Radcliffe—her own college. The latter part of the hour was given up to a discussion on the important question of inviting outsiders to the freshman and sophomore dances. The general consensus of opinion was that these functions should be strictly college affairs.

Dr. R. C. Clark has presented to the library that bulletin of the University of Texas which secured for him from Wisconsin his degree of Ph. D. It is a pamphlet of 94 pages with map, on "The Beginnings of Texas," for which theme the libraries of the state of Texas and of its university furnish excellent facilities.
