Engineers on Friday Evening

The Engineers' Club held its regular meeting Friday evening in McClure Hall. The Tungsten lamp was discussed by P. W. Reid. He spoke briefly of the advent of the lamp and of its competitive value in the field of illumination. R. E. Hickson gave his experience in the government service of river improvement in his talk on Hydrographic Survey of the Lower Columbia. Strange Fire Protection was the topic of Dr. H. B. Leonard, dealing with a problem in fire insurance which puzzled one of the insurance experts of the country. He demonstrated the problem before the club.

Mrs. Allen at Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. S. D. Allen talked to the Y. W. C. A. girls this week on "The Habit of Happiness." She said in part, that happiness is to be found by looking up at the stars rather than into the dark corners; by judging not that ye be not judged; by looking for beautiful things thinking noble thoughts, and doing kind deeds; but most of all by prayer and faith in God and obedience to him. Juliet Cross sang a solo which was very much enjoyed.

Seniors Will Meet Soon

What token of remembrance the seniors will leave to the University, who will be asked to preach the baccalaureate sermon for the class of 1909, how soon the seniors will appear in the glory of caps and gowns, at what time, if at all, the senior play will be given—these and many other matters of import will be discussed at a meeting of the class to be held in the near future. A committee has been appointed by Jesse H. Bond, president of the class, to give preliminary attention to these matters, which will then be brought to the attention of the class.

The sophomores and freshmen played off their tie score in football by the light of the full moon Friday evening. The owl of victory perched on the standard of the sophomores, score 4 to 0. Captain Stackpole kicked the goal that won for his class.

The goal posts were decorated in purple and gold at the Pullman-Washington game, Saturday.

Z. X. Riddell, '10, has returned to college.
