

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Receptions Given to Faculty and Washington Team, and Shower for Miss Kays

The girls of Mary Spiller Hall gave a charming "at home" to the faculty on Friday evening. Prof. Carson, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Stearns assisted by the Misses Hill, Barzee and Ferdine, received the guests, who were then shown over the house by the Misses Dow, Riddle, Frink, Herren and Lane. A cheerful fire burned in the grate in the parlor, which was decorated in green and white. Chrysanthemums furnished the color scheme. The hall was daintily draped in black-berry vines and bunches of mistletoe hung over the stairway. Miss Hill and Miss Barzee had charge of the decorations. In the library, which was decorated with red rose-berries, fruit punch was served by the Misses Thomlinson, Bagley and Fry. Miss Bond and Miss Horner furnished the music, and sherbet was served in the dining room by Miss Lyster, assisted by Miss Hammerstrom and Miss Hyde. The parlor was attractive in a dress of vines and flowers. The walls of the reception room were hung with embroidered Chinese drapery. This is the first formal function of the year given by the girls of the Mary Spiller and will probably be followed by many other equally delightful affairs.

Miss Norma Hendricks gave a lavender shower for Miss Leona Kays at her home on Friday afternoon. Those present were the Beta Epsilon girls and Mrs. and Miss Kays. A picnic lunch was served. The very clever and pretty place cards were folded into the shape of a heart, with Miss Kays' photograph on the outside. When unfolded they took the form of a four-leaf clover with the guest's name written on the inside.

A reception was given to the boys of the Oregon and Washington football teams on Saturday evening at the dormitory. The large rooms were decorated with the pennants and colors of the two universities. There were a large number of students present and all had a splendid time. President Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Prescott and Prof. Carson received. Toward the close of the evening the room was cleared for dancing. Cider and wafers were served by the Misses Oberteuffer, McNair and McClain.

Faculty Club Tuesday

The Faculty Colloquium will hold its first open meeting of the year in the Chemistry Lecture Room, McClure Hall on Tuesday evening, November 17, 1908, at 7:45 p. m. Prof. Sweetser will address the meeting on "Luther Burbank and Mendelism." The students of the University are cordially invited to attend. The Colloquium meets biweekly, but only three or four meetings during the year are open to attendance by students. The club was formed this fall.

TICKETS ON SALE AT OFFICE

If You Intend to go to Portland Saturday, Read This Article Carefully

Preparations for the O. A. C.-Oregon game at Portland are well under way, and little else will be heard on the campus this week aside from discussion of this game.

Admission to the game, including grandstand, will be $1.50, but a special rate for students of $1.00 has been granted. The Oregon students will occupy a specially reserved section of the grandstand. Tickets will be on sale at the office of the Registrar the first part of this week. This will probably be the only chance to secure tickets at the reduced rate, so purchase should be made at once. The number is also limited. Manager McEwen will sell the tickets at the University office between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. until Wednesday evening, after which no more will be sold. Town people may purchase tickets at Linn Drug Co.

Instruction Meeting Wednesday

Assembly on Wednesday will be a meeting of the student-body and will take the form of a final instruction meeting to rooters and excursionists.

Everyone intending to go to either Portland game should be on hand as Loosley and others have elaborate plans which can only be worked out by the cooperation of all. If time remains, some practise rooting will be done.

Vacation not Granted

In spite of earnest solicitation by a committee of students and a petition bearing 350 signatures, the faculty has deemed it best not to grant a recess during the first two and one half days of next week, as O. A. C. has done. They have, however, decided to grant a full and free leave of absence to any student making proper application. Classes will go on the same as usual, but students having excuses will not be asked to make up work missed.

Loan Fund Increased

Five hundred and twenty-five dollars has been added to the student loan fund through the efforts of Senator Robert A. Booth. The amount was donated by prominent Portland business men, who wish their names withheld. Part of this amount has been loaned out and the rest of it is available to students desiring financial assistance.

Five hundred and twenty-six is the enrollment of the University up-to-date.

Mrs. Willa Hanna Beattie, '95, writes from Sitka in appreciation of the Oregon Weekly.

A monster rally will be held Friday night in anticipation of the O. A. C. game.

DIRK ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Joint Meeting of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Held Sunday at Close of Week of Prayer

Rev. Dirk of Portland was the speaker at the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Association joint meeting on Sunday afternoon. This meeting came as a conclusion or climax of the week of prayer, during which prayer has been offered for the greater success of the associations throughout the world.

Rev. Dirk spoke concerning the missionary work of the association both at home and abroad, and his plea was for a wider and larger Christian activity.

He submitted that no individual is safe until those with whom he associates have been saved, and likewise no nation is safe until its associate nations have been saved. He said of Japan and China that they are casting covetous eyes upon this country and that we are in actual danger from them. It is, however, not the larger navy we need to make us safe from them, but rather we need to spread the Christian religion among them. He said that with the same amount of money which we expect to place in a larger navy America could so Christianize those nations as to remove entirely the danger of their attack, and thus make the country more secure by far than any navy could.

President P. L. Campbell has received a letter from Wistar W. Johnson, who is at Pembroke College, Oxford University. Mr. Johnson is taking an engineering course and expresses himself as pleased with his work at Pembroke, which, being a smaller college than most of the colleges of Oxford, offers more advantages to the individual student.

An error in the issue of last week was the naming of Mrs. F. S. Dunn as honorary member of the Gamma Delta Gamma. Mrs. E. E. DeCom is the lady whose name should have been given.

A. H. Page is once more in college.

O. A. C. has a football song, the music of which was written to fit the words.

"The very best medicine for freshmen," says Professor Keinsmid, of De Pauw University, "is to catch them in their best 'bib and tuck' and duck them in the creek."

Utah and Washington offer courses in journalism this year, so extensive that a student may major in them.

The first rally ever held at Whitman took place on the eve of the Idaho game.

At the O. A. C.-Whitman game the O. A. C. juniors sat apart and rooted for the Whitman team. This is an act of intercollegiate courtesy unprecedented in the college northwest.

As the Weekly is going to press the Eutaxians are putting into practise the parliamentary drill taught them last week by Mrs. Harris.
