TAU PI BECOMES NATIONAL

Local Sorority is now Nu Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, a Conservative Organization

Of interest in society circles is the advent of the first national sorority into the University. Gamma Phi Beta is the sorority. It has granted a charter to the Tau Pi, a local sorority which has been in existence some four or five years. Its members have always been prominent in University student life, both socially and politically. Last year the Tau Pi moved into a beautiful new home on Thirteenth and Alder Streets which it now occupies. The sorority will in future be known as Nu Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. Gamma Phi Beta is one of the largest, oldest and most conservative of women's secret college societies. It grants chapters only after the fullest investigation and for good reason.
