SOPHOMORE HOP A SUCCESS

Decorations Pretty, Program Unique,
Dance Well Managed, and the Crowd Just Right

The dance given by the sophomore class Saturday evening was a decided success. The hall was decorated simply and effectively in ropes of evergreen, the corner for the patronesses being a bower of mistletoe. A very large and beautiful bunch of mistletoe also hung from the center of the ceiling.

Only University students were present and as a result the hall was not over crowded, there being plenty of room for enjoyable dancing. The usual program was varied by two barn dances which were very pretty to watch and great fun to the dancers. Punch was served during the evening in one corner of the hall, which was very prettily screened off with evergreens.

The patronesses were: Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Prof. L. C. Carson, Mrs. R. H. Dearborn, Mrs. I. M. Glen, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Lyda McIntosh, Mrs. Helen Duff, Miss Johnson, Miss Barter and Mrs. Pennell.

Every one present at the dance pronounced it one of the most pleasant he had attended and it was successful in every way. The sophomore class is to be congratulated upon its charming party.

There were many beautiful gowns worn, white being the predominating color, which fitted in nicely with the green back-ground.

Dinner to Mrs. Mills

Mrs. Mills, founder of Mills College, California, visited Prof. L. C. Carson and the University Monday on her way south from Portland, where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Dolph. She was entertained at dinner at the Mary Spiller House and in the evening by a reception given by President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell at which the members of the faculty and their wives were present. Punch and wafers were served by the Misses Lucia Campbell, Clara Wold, Olivia Bond, Wilcox, Woodcock and Gibson. Mrs. Mills left town on a late train the same evening.

Professor Young was in Salem Monday to attend a meeting of the Conservation League Committee on water law recommendations.
