Forbes and Wife Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes came down from Wendling, Saturday, to spend a few days in Eugene. This will give the football men a chance to present to the newly wedded couple their somewhat delayed wedding present, a handsome silver service. While in Eugene, Forbes will go through the formality of signing a contract binding himself to coach the football team next year. Mr. Forbes is a guest at the Sigma Nu house, while Mrs. Forbes is visiting at the Beta Epsilon house.

Large Number Fail

In the days before examination there was a class in Political Institutions of forty-five. Only twenty-one of these will finish the course, as twenty-four were graded "E" in the recent examination. This is the most liberal distribution of "E's" yet made by any University professor. The instructor is Professor Barnett, recently of Oklahoma, and now in the Department of Political Science at Oregon.

Miss Hattie Hyde, '12, went to Portland Monday.

Miss Annie Bergman, '10, will visit friends at Leona this week.

Charles W. Erskine, '11, will not return to college next semester.

Merwin Rankin, '10, Ray Caufield, '12, and Jack Getz, '12, have gone to Portland to spend the week.

"Mike" Walker, ex-'10, opened a new nickelodeon in Eugene. The "Aloha" is the name of the new undertaking.

Alonzo Perkins, '11, refereed the basketball game between Salem High School and Eugene High School on Friday night.

Heroschi Takahashi, '11, late of Boston High School and University of California, will probably contribute an article to the next issue of the Oregon Monthly.

Michigan will publish a new literary magazine.
