Thirteen stalwart members of the Y. M. C. A. will attend the conference at Columbia Beach, starting from Portland Saturday, June 19, and remaining ten days. The delegates will take some part in the program, but their special work has not yet been assigned to them.

The Oregon men will be easily distinguished among the crowd of delegates from all over the Northwest by white hats with green bands and green and yellow socks.

H. A. Dalzell is leader of the delegation, and Nelson Gammans, secretary.

Pleasant Birthday Party

Saturday evening Miss Edith Mickelson entertained a number of her friends delightfully. The rooms were beautifully decorated with roses. Misses Elizabeth Howe and Florence Marquiss assisted the hostess in serving. The guests were Misses Pansy Maurer, Ethel Tooze, Mabel Kuykendall, June Gray, Ruth Rolfe, Claire Dunn, Lila Prosser, Nelle Murphy, Grace Hobbs, Jessie Prosser Frieda Goldsmith, Florence Marquis, Elizabeth Howe and Messrs. Elmer Furusett, Linus Bittner, George White, Wendell Barbour, Harold Cockerline, William Mott, Rex Turner, Jack Trew, Raymond Salisbury, Herbert Roome, Paul Correll, Reuben Steelquist.

That Ball Game

A plug-ugly parade, the like of which has never been seen before and never will be seen again, will precede the alumni-senior ball game on Tuesday of commencement week at 9:30 a. m. President Campbell, the umpire, will be the only participant who will not dress for the occasion. He will be permitted to wear the conventional black, but decorations are not at all improbable if his calling of strikes is unsatisfactory to the fire-eating grads.

Get a Receipt

All taking advantage of the commencement low railroad rates should get receipts from the ticket seller and present them at the University office as only thus can the rate be secured.

As announced in the local and Portland papers, the Masonic Club of the University has been granted a chapter in the Acacia Fraternity, a secret order founded ten years ago at University of Michigan.

Miss Agnes Beach has a most interesting thesis on the "Derivation and Significance of the Historical Names of Oregon."

Miss Martha Koerner, ex-'06, who is a teacher in Oregon City, will be here for Commencement.

Earl C. Mayo, '09, went to Hillsboro where he has a position with the Southern Pacific Company.

Misses Edna and Clara Caufield, of Oregon City, are to be at the Gamma Phi Beta house this week.

Miss Antoinette Burdick, '07, and Miss Mary Scott, '08, will be guests at Kloshe Tillacum Lodge during Commencement week.
