

Emma Jules who has been on the sick list for some time is better and is now able to be about.

Sofa pillows and cushions seem to be the fad at present. Certainly a very pleasant and comfortable one.

A certain photograph in the printing office, pasted in a conspicuous place is cheerfully waiting for an exchange.

James Smith of the Grammar school grade has been acting as substitute teacher in the third grade during Mr. Williams' temporary absence.

Look out for the harnessmakers when they enter their new shop. Their banner will float over them, and possibly will add one more blue ribbon to their staff.

Herbert Campbell has not wasted his time during the Xmas vacation. He has been busy with his books. However, he found a LITTLE time for letter-writing.

"We see Mr. Campbell, Mr. Stoudenmeyer and Mr. Woodin go out on various hunting expeditions, but thus far we have seen no game," says one who does not know the whole story.

Our largest boys in small boys home have taken up Kit Carsons Life, the title of the book we are reading is Thirty Years on the Plains and In the mountains, by D. F. Brannen. We are enjoying the evening reading very much.

The King's Daughters Society meets regularly Friday afternoon from 3 o'clock to 5. The attendance is good and the members are all interested in the work of the Society. The officers are; Minerva McDaniels, Leader; Fay Charles, Secretary, Lena Wilbur, Treasurer.

The Girls' Band Of Mercy met in its accustomed place. The program for the evening was a long one and it was quite interesting. The members of this society are quite enthusiastic and they are capable of setting an example for some of the larger girls who do not care to belong to any society.

Cenon Reyes appeared to be particularly enjoying himself at the last sociable. Cenon is fast becoming Americanized and has quite gotten over his homesickness. There is nothing like a good command of English language when you live among English speaking people.

When you are served by a lady with a dainty cup of cocoa do not take the fragile little cup in your hands as though it were a tin cup and gulp the contents down at one sip, but try by your manners, to watch the dainty service. One's breeding shows plainly at such times.

The conduct of the pupils in the school rooms this year appears to be remarkably good as very few cases for punishment are reported. This has helped to lessen the burdens of the teachers and make their work easier and enables them to give the pupils more assistance in their studies.

The new boys and girls are becoming very much at home at Chemawa. They enter into the life of the school with great zest. At sociables they are just as merry and seem to be having as good a time as boys and girls who have been here much longer. It doesn't take long to get acquainted at old Chemawa.

The pupils in grade IV are doing splendid work in their studies. As long as they are so busy and interested in their work, they will continue to be as orderly as during the first quarter of the year, when there were very few cases of bad conduct reported and no severe punishment inflicted.

Mr. Henderson paid a visit to the bakery and was surprised to see nearly all of his ex-bakers knuckling down to their work in the shop. They are really good laborers in the industrial department. They never say "When is the whistle going to sound?" but stay with their work until it is completed. Their instructor, Mr. Teabo, is much pleased with their work. The following names include the detail, A. M. apprentices are Clifford Coonskin, Manuel Robles, Wm. Heater, Joe Charles and Wm. Lashmon. P. M., Alex Young.
