

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Skating!

Joe Elliott is in the wagon shop.

James Smith is now the little boys' "Chief".

Mr. Knight is a frequent visitor to Chemawa.

Mrs. Scott is taking charge of the small boys' home.

The wagonmakers completed a fine cart for the carpenters.

Mrs. Henderson returned Monday after a few days absence.

Who is it? "Are you not mother enough without making one of yourself?"

Henry Lovelace and Bert McKinnis are on the sick list. Both are happy printer boys.

Simon Booth has been very busy making himself a bureau which does him great credit.

Dr. Clark has a nice new book case in his office which was made by Charles Cutler.

Christopher Gwynn received the sad news of the death of his cousin at Gervais, Oregon.

Christopher Gwynn is a member of the salvation Army having joined before coming to the school.

Word has been received from Yalmux, Klamath Agency that they are having many deaths there.

The carpenter boys are busy fixing up the millinery room and making extra suits for the land uniforms.

The pond is frozen over and a merry crowd of skaters are enjoying the little touch of winter we are having.

Manuel Robles is making rapid headway with his hand instrument and will be a leading concert player one of these days.

Miss Lander says she is glad he came to Chemawa. He likes the school and the people and employees. Peter is anxious to secure a good education and is a good student.

Max Campbell's beautiful wife delighted all who heard her sing at the Memorial Service on McKinley's birthday.

Bob McKinnis has made a nice washstand for his use in his room. Robert is moving to the front in his carpenter work.

A little flurry of snow on Friday morning raised false hopes in the hearts of some of our boys and girls who enjoy snowballing.

Mr. Woods, our carpenter gets the teachers some interesting information concerning "oath" at teachers' meeting on Tuesday night.

Mr. Stouffer missed his calling. He should have been an artist, judging from some of his drawings made in the office this week.

It is an artistic treat for the employees and a lesson for the pupils in the higher and better things of this life, to hear General Stouffer play as also played on Wednesday morning.

There have been no deaths at the school now for six months. This when we consider that there are about 100 here in a good health record.

Rev. Mr. Lewis, of Salem, accompanied by his wife, spent Sunday evening with us. He conducted the Sunday evening service in a very able manner.

Supervisor Chalcraft, Asst. Supt. Phillips of Puyallup and Supt. Patten visited the different class rooms during study hour Wednesday evening.

The carpenter boys will be free chicken raisers as they have built the new poultry house and understand the sanitary measures necessary to insure success.

Sam Morris, of the fifth grade, is reading "Stories of Oregon" by Max Fry. The "Chief Timothy" spoken of in the interesting little history, is Sam's grandfather.

Little Helen Cartline thinks a goose is as good as a sled to go riding in the snow. Her little rosy cheeks and sunshiny nose testified to her delight as Doc pulled her around during the snow storm.