

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The sound of the wood-burr is heard in the land these days.

Miss Scrimshaw now occupies Miss Laufman's old room.

Mrs. Westfall's management of the mess is very favorably commented upon.

The Y. W. C. A. held a most interesting meeting on Sunday night. Miss Agnes Baysell who presides at the organ is a faithful worker in this most excellent organization.

Is it true that some of the boys borrow the girls' fascinators and wear them around their necks? The next thing there'll be wanting their hair ribbons and their aprons.

Mrs. Carthage is almost entirely well now and the many friends she has made at Chemawa are pleased to have her with them again.

Frank Hamilton, who acted as sergeant of the small boys while Mrs. Adair was their mother, filled his position excellently. He was kind and firm in his management of the little fellows.

Boys you should never let any thing interfere with your weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting. The only way to have a society prosper is to be faithful in attendance and in the presiding officers giving strict attention to their duties.

Mrs. Davis was the guest of Mrs. Hill in enjoying her visit at Chemawa very much. She will remain here until her home in Boise is "thawed out." The fellows cold there during the past few weeks has played havoc with water pipes, electric lines and so forth.

Mrs. Woods is a famous baker, so the expensive boys say, and they ought to know as they have her to thank for many delicious pies and cakes.

The little girls' drama of the Y. W. C. A. has great interest to their work, and have very interesting meetings every Sunday afternoon from 12:45 to 1:15.

Herman Bourgeois, Helen Mitchell, Isabella Kowalski and Peter Lubi's are filling up the new chicken houses. Mr. Woods has great confidence in those willing young men. They seem to catch on and take an interest in their work.

Emma Jules is an excellent assistant in the Girls' Home. By her thorough business methods and fidelity to duty, she has won the respect of all the girls and the love and admiration of all the employees.

Ess Woods is her mamma's and papa's little rock while Mrs. Woods is busy in the sewing room. She enjoys it very much and says it is good practice for her.

Ernie Campbell took a party of girls over to visit the new girls' building last Sunday and the girls were all pleased with the way the building was progressing.

The boys seem to enjoy the thorough cleaning of their pits and getting on Thursday evening. A little early for spring-cleaning but we will all bear it in a little while.

In our last paper we overlooked Mr. Overman's splendid talk to the club's body on poultry raising. Mr. Overman thoroughly understands his subject and the hour was very profitably and enjoyably spent.

Miss Finley, of Selma, talked to the school in the chapel on Thursday night. Her subject was "The Good Shepherd."

Tommy Pister is quite a musician. He can sit down to the piano and play with both hands quite a number of tunes. Tommy has had no music lessons yet, but one of these days he will begin to study music—then look on.

Asst. Supt. Phillips played on the violin at the social on Wednesday night in the auditorium. Mrs. Campbell accompanied him on the piano. The music was much enjoyed.

Papi Pister hit the nail on the head when he said that we would show our sincerity to our regard for our late president by putting our hands down into our pockets and giving something to write McKim, by means of which will be heard at Canton, Ohs.
