

Pupils Items from 5th Division.

Mrs. Patten was making flower garden on Wednesday.

Mr. Scott has appointed Thos. McCully to be his assistant blacksmith.

Mrs. Campbell has been sick for two days and yet she's teaching us.

The fifth grade struck some hard examples Wednesday morning.

The weather has changed the last two days, and its just nice and warm.

The ladies here renovated their laundry and given it a coat of white-wash.

A visit to the paint shop found the painters at work on the new three seater benches.

We noticed that the painters still had to finish some "keep off the grass" signs.

The girls of the Domestic Science class are all anxious for the return of Mrs. Hill, and Morris received a whole lot of scraps from his home Wednesday morning.

The pupils of the fifth grade are having good lesson in the line of Domestic Science.

Della Paland worked hard last night on her arithmetics. She did not give it up till eleven o' clock.

Blanche Davis is cooking for Mrs. Brewer. She is a nice little cook and they all like her very much.

Key Distast must be a good little worker. Every time a girl is needed in the new kitchen Mrs. Thier thinks of her.

The days are growing longer and brighter and as the sunny days return the girls and boys can be seen playing about the lawn.

Violet Dupuis is working in the sewing room and is doing good work. She learns very rapidly and knows how to make some very nice dresses.

Girls do you want to learn how to make desserts. If you do go to Miss Hanson. She can make any kind of a dessert. She is our mess manager.

Mrs. Hill has gone to Portland on a visit to be gone a few days. During her absence Bertie Anderson took charge of the cooking class.

Mr. Farrow has finished Miss Brewer's book case, and it is now ready for use. She was surprised after she found out that he was the maker of it.

Mrs. Campbell says that she likes the Indian children. I believe she does. We know that she is sick and still she comes to teach her red skin students.

Elvira Parrish is doing good work at Mrs. Campbell's and while she has been there it is plain to see that she has learned a great deal in cooking as Mrs. Campbell is indeed an excellent cook.

Items from the Small Boys' Home

Julia Grider is working in the patch room again.

Lyman Kavanaugh enjoys his new home, and is anxious to learn all he can.

James Smith is teaching the two companions of small boys to keep step, march time, salute, etc.

The patch room girls are waiting patiently for the new boxes and drawers Mr. Woods promised. They want a piece for everything and everything in its place.

Master Floyd Hayden received two pairs of stockings a cap pistol and a small tobacco sack full of eggs, from the Girls' and Boys' Aid society of Portland last week.

Haynes Dewar's brick-work in the tower house is all right.

The case for Miss Hanson's office is painted and finished at last.

A visit to the blacksmith shop on Wednesday, while Mr. Scott was at work on the hospital heater, showed Alfred La-Claude at work shoeing Nancy, the flyer; Samuel Wikholm making sport benches and the balance of the boys at work ironing the new hats.
