

The Engann University boys who passed through here on Saturday give some of their characteristic yells among which was their delight "Chemama-was!" Engann had better be hunting up a sail, and wait for themselves.

Mr. Campbell's brother who lives in Philadelphia attended the Carlele commencement and says it was the best he ever attended there and he has had the pleasure of being present at a number of these notable commencements.

Miss Tirzah Trask was married to Mr. John Gagnier at Elletts last week. Miss Tirzah was a pupil of this school for a number of years and filled the position of Assistant Matron at the Elletts Indian School up to the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Brewer gave a dinner in honor of her daughter Miss Gertrude, on Wednesday, it being Miss Gertrude's birthday. Mrs. Irene Campbell, Miss Dolly Wigetius, Miss Agnes Haglund and Miss Lily Brewer were the invited guests and report a lovely time.

Messrs. Kuttler and Fields, Superintendent and Manager of the Southern Pacific, stepped out of their special car on Monday to inspect the station and discuss the advisability of giving an additional locomotive in the way of a siding and a passenger station.

Miss Estelle Root, National Superintendent of Indian schools, and Miss Gertrude Elletts L. Chamberlain will be present and, by their counsel and advice will much to the benefit of the Pacific Coast Institute, which will be held at Newport, Oregon, August 19-23.

Beware of the crockers! Those kind of fellows who say "oh yes, the weather is very nice, but we'll have lots of rain and I saw in the paper that next month it would be very stormy!" Those kind of fellows give us a pain. If it rains next month, just as we hope it will, we will surely and truly enjoy the spring, cleaning old winter earth's getting and look forward to some more glorious weather.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Edward McClosky has entered the tailor shop.

Chas. Culler is making a screen for the use of the tailor shop.

The harness makers here to thank Robert McCrea for a nice new press block.

A visit to the carpenter shop found Chas. Newton at work on a neat table for use in the kindergarten.

The new room for the engineers will be ready for occupancy as soon as the painters off the floor, etc.

The locker boys took great interest in the games and amusements which they made for the Y. W. C. A. assembly.

We notice the new sidewalk extending from the blacksmith shop to the carpenter shop, which will help to keep us out of the mud.

Miss Edna Suckman has entered the ladies tailoring department. Miss Suckman has worked for about one year as dressmaker with Mrs. Paxson of Salem.

The Industrial Teacher's force did considerable work last week cleaning up the dump at the north end of the school grounds. This was a very noticeable improvement.

Herman Bergquist and Kyle Mitchell have put the building timbers to use, chicken house and are now at work making a table for the summer holidays in Meditation Hall.

It is certainly surprising when one stops to think of the amount of labor done on the buildings in Chemama and yet, more work needs to be done. Since Chemama has been where it is now located, several thousand pounds of white lead has been used to make its buildings look neat. Besides the white lead, many hundred pounds of colored pigments have been used for tinting the white lead. When this is taken into consideration and compared with the old style log huts of the early settlers, we are forced to acknowledge and bow down to civilization.
