

Mr. Houlston, who has been somewhat under the weather, is up and around.

The "Pudding River Journal" is now in the hands of a new editor. Look out for notices.

Daniel Oakes is now appointed keeper of the deer lease in the Chemawa-Mamagie Park. Like the Daniel of old, he is brave and bold.

The Fair Day's is crowded with loggias and beds and it is the turquoise women, some nice looking girls will be seen in Gannax.

Miss Bayles writes that she has resigned her position as Assistant Industrial Teacher at High School, California and is going to stick out for himself.

Inspector Jenkins attended the assembly on last Friday evening and expressed himself as being well pleased with the conduct of our boys and girls.

The printer boys prepared Mrs. French's hat room and it looks very nice. The work was also given over and the boys asked for inspection.

The new beds when finished will compare favorably with the Sculstatkye Mountain Spring covered wagons, and will bring much credit and nice words of praise upon our wagon-making Department of this school.

The painters have changed the look of the kitchen by white-washing it. Mr. Williams proved himself to be a worker as he joined white wash and worked as hard as the best painter.

Miss Derry of Salem accompanied Joseph Day to Chemawa last Tuesday to visit their son Frank Lawrence Jenkins and look over the school plant. Miss Derry is one of our old employees and her many friends were delighted to see her such again.

The 5000 college picnic set out last November are all right, and will make big college boys that will make the most benefactors of our population.

Shary Lowrey is our faithful relative. He was kind worker and backside help in getting on the paper. Friends can't you get into doing by getting your hands. It will take much of your time and will help him.

Steve Gifford is going to be a good printer if he sticks to it.

It is just like going to a regular granite industrial show to see that bachelor with blue.

Miss Emma Weiss, accompanied by two friends, dropped into the printing office for a visit Wednesday.

The pupils are all enjoying these lovely days and are all out, at odd moments, taking our daily gymnastic exercise.

The hours are nearly through shelling, and we are all glad of it too, for they seem so heavy that we could hardly bear to look at them.

Do outdoor boys. Don't get the spring fever and remain under, but brace up and stay at school, it is only about 30 days until vacation.

Chemawa is the proud possessor of a new literary society, which was organized last Thursday evening, and will be known as the Wahnet Literary Society.

Jumping is the sport of the boys at Chemawa at present. Marble playing is getting old here while back East they are just commencing. Now say the West is at up-to-date.

We have on hand 75 sets of first class harness that we will be glad to sell to Indians through their agents at very low prices. Our harness is made of the best quality of leather and will be hard. It will last twice as long as the machinery made harness often made of inferior leather. We wish to help and encourage the Indian farmers on the reservations, and therefore make this special offer. Write for prices.

Hon. F. A. Day, ex-best, governor of Minnesota, and an old time friend and companion of Joseph Jenkins, and of Frank Derry, of Salem, made our school a visit Tuesday afternoon and evening. He was delighted with Chemawa and expressed great pleasure in seeing such evidence of culture, refinement and progress on the part of our pupils. Employees and pupils alike were highly pleased with Gov. Day's visit and with his kind and encouraging words. We hope to say something and make a longer stay.
