

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Woods has a new bicycle.

Eugene Goff is having a big fire set out.

Pete Linder has a new set of a good story.

Look at the new sign in front of the Postoffice.

Mr. Patten was a little under the weather on Sunday.

Peter Williams and wife spent Sunday at Chemawa.

Mr. Overman is slowly recovering from his sickness.

Mrs. Westfall is having excellent success as a teacher.

Mr. Childers has almost learned how to ride his bicycle.

Miss Kesson spent Monday evening with friends in town.

Gertrude Brower attended the Emma Nevada concert.

Next week the teachers will begin their spring re-riding.

Miss Miller has a new tin for the rear wheel of her bicycle.

Mrs. Smith's little children look very nice in their new outfits.

Mr. Campbell's kitchen has been reconstructed by the painter.

Chas. Payne came down from Oregon City on Friday morning.

Jesse Crook is making a pair of trousers for Mr. Henderson.

Sam Williams has almost finished ironing the new backboard.

Robert McCrea is making a fine parlor table for Mrs. J. Williams.

Every one wants whitewash for their chicken houses and fences.

A poor run-out of employees at chapel service on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams visited the Excelsior society on Thursday night.

Prof. Gester visited the school on Sunday evening. The professor treated a few of his friends with some beautiful violin music.

Quarterly examinations are being held in the schoolrooms this week.

Louis Jahn rented his piano to try him out at the orchestra concert tonight.

Mrs. Coulter and Miss Brown were shopping in Salem on Saturday.

Byron Mitchell is making a little top in town. We wonder who it will be for?

The Senior class is very busy now preparing for commencement, May 26.

Percy Johnson seems to feel very proud of the new pocket on his work apron.

Who was it that said he was on the program for a "pen point" (pen picture)?

Parasitizing bugs were seen in front of the dining hall on Friday afternoon.

Paul Hill, who is working in the vicinity of Brown, visited his school home Sunday.

Mr. Johnson Williams is having a fine spring suit of clothes made in the tailor shop.

Herb McCrea is becoming an expert pressman, and is not slow at setting type either.

It is a good idea having the glasses on the platform in front. Singing a duet with both.

Miss French, over-estimated six of Y. W. C. A. girls in Forest Grove to attend a convention.

William Lovelace put a new light in the additional room of the printing office, Tuesday.

The blacksmiths have just finished building a new wagon. It is now ready for the painter.

Rev. Wiggins' buggy has been painted by the painter and he will certainly be proud of it.

Jesse Crook has been in charge of the tailoring department during Mr. Overman's sickness.

Wednesday evening was the first evening of the season that the band gave us an open air concert.

The Y. W. C. A. had a small attendance at the meeting on Sunday evening. Girls should all attend.