

John Daniels is becoming an excellent plumber and engineer.

The surprise entertainment last Wednesday evening was gotten up by Louie Lane.

Several of the pupils are going to see the dog and pony show in Salem tomorrow.

The printing press has organized a base ball team and for lack of space we cannot give their positions.

John Allen started by his excellent management, during Mr. Brower's absence, that he is the man for the position in hiding.

Perry Johnson has purchased a new baseball bat which is written on the back like this: C. A. P. Perry is the captain of the printing office team.

The Willamette University boys will play the Chemawa a game of base ball tomorrow p. m. on the school grounds. An exciting time is expected.

Louis Johnson "devil" is becoming an expert compositor. He takes pains in his work, and may sometime in the near future become the manager of the Pudding River Journal.

Mr. E. G. Henderson has purchased a new Rambler bicycle which has a counter brake, extension handle bar and a cushion frame as well as all other modern improvements.

The girls' branch of the Y. W. C. A. held a very interesting meeting on Sunday afternoon from two to three o'clock. We are sorry to say there was a small attendance, but all who were present took an active part. All members should attend the meetings in the girls' meeting room every Sunday from two to three o'clock P. M.

We noticed an interesting article in The Advance headed like this, "By an Old Pup, E. Brown." This article was written by one late Edith Brown, (deceased) who was a Chemawa educated pupil and who afterwards became editor of THE WEEKLY CHEMAWA AMERICAN. He was a fine example of what the education does for the Red Man.

The following program of band concert was given by The Chemawa Indian School Glee Band at 7:30 o'clock last Sunday:

1. Behind the Woods, Thom. S. Allen.
  2. "The Holy City," Stephen Adams.
  3. Sunbeams and Shadows, Keiser.
  4. The Immortal, Ber. H. Anthony.
  5. Sing Me a Song of the South, James J. Carter.
  6. The Visitor's Return, K. Schumardere.
  7. El Paso, Ber. H. Anthony.
  8. The Crank of the Whip, S. H. Henry.
  9. March, "Hoisting to Bangor," Hall.
- H. N. Skindemeyer, Bandmaster.

Executive Literary Society assembled in school-room No. 3. The house was called to order by the President, at 7:30 p. m. and as the critic and sergeant-at-arms were not present the President had full charge of the meeting. The roll being called a few members were found absent; after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary. The committee handed in their reports and the society promptly transacted all business that was brought before the house. The society showed signs of activity, and the discussion on the future plans of society gave evidence of men's (the girls) and careful preparation during the past week. This was one of the most successful and interesting meetings of the season, every member taking part either on program or debate.

The program was resolved as follows:
Opening address, Wm. Ingram; Loans, Andrew Fland; Current events, Albert Payne; Story, Thos. Young; Vocal solo, John Lamb; Question for debate: Resolved, that the water line from the Fair Grounds should be extended to the school.

Affirmative,	Negative,
Charles Larson,	William Mahone,
Karlton Brower,	Nicholas Lewis,
Thomas Otto,	Don Oaks,

The members of the Reliance Literary Society made a friendly visit and were cordially invited to take part in the debate, which they did. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative and the meeting adjourned at 9:20.
