

The roses are budding, Mr. Campbell says, so look out for insecticide treatments.

Eva Beard, who is working in Salem, is visiting her friends and relatives at school.

Everybody smiles at Peter LaFleur when they go into the blacksmith shop to get their bicycles repaired.

Mr. Chisum made a flying visit to his home in North Yakima the latter part of last week and returned the first of this week.

Mr. Foster has a brand new, up-to-date, 1922 model Rambler bicycle. If any one wants a good wheel get a Rambler.

Miss Brown came to the office on Thursday to see Superintendent and, when she got there she did not know what she wanted.

George Blacklock a former pupil is now Chief Engineer on the steamer Hope, plying on Puget Sound. He receives $90 per month.

The new dishes add greatly to the appearance of the dining room in the Meek Cafe.

Adelpha Yarnes joined the Meek Club this week.

Johnson Williams has got a new coat of paint on his parlor floor which, with the new table that Bobt. Mc'ron made, makes his room look fine.

Five of our young ladies walked two miles to church last Sunday, and they walked all the way back. They enjoyed the services very much.

The Williams University played Saturday afternoon on our grounds. The game was a close sided affair as the score was 20 to 1 in favor of Chemawa.

Mr. Collins, contemplates purchasing a Columbia stainless bicycle of the latest pattern in the near future. The Columbians are smart, and there are quite a number on the grounds.

The woods of Oregon are full of flowers these days and the people may well congratulate themselves that they are not full of the gre and better bigger, full of the little snake and other pests that inhabit the woods and prairie of the central portion of the United States.

Had you been with the surprising band on Saturday last, you would have seen a fine example of what a girl can do, without being told, if she tries. We refer to Alvina Collins' ward at the hospital. It was simply immaculate, shiny, ripe and all, polished so that one can see your face in it. Pillow cases beautifully laundered beds perfectly made, and not a speck of dust anywhere. Inside the ward, Alvina has had the care of the linen room, private ward, hall and stairs, and the dispensary, and they are always in the same good order as the large ward. It is a pleasure to have such a girl as Alvina on your staff.

Telegram.

Washington, D. C. April 29.
Salem, Oregon, Apr. 28, 1932.
Hon. T. W. Potter,
Supr. Indian Training School,
Chemawa, Oregon.

The senate item of thirty thousand dollars for brick dormitory at Chemawa has been changed by conference committee to twenty-five thousand so this amount will be appropriated for new brick dormitory. It was carried to today in conference.

John Mitchell.

7:50 p. m.

Dull Pupils Should Not Despair.

Speaking of popular education, an old teacher says: "For 40 years I have been teaching in the public schools of the city in which I live, and many of my earliest pupils are now men of middle age. What discourages me is that so many of my brightest scholars have proved failures in the professions, in business, and in public life, while the most successful of our citizens were, as a rule, classed among the dull and x. Among physicians, engineers and ministers, I find that some of my dullest pupils are in the front rank. On the other hand, some of my brightest and most promising scholars are little better than tramps, and most of them are below the average in the avocations they have chosen."—E. C.