Mr. Caine says that the Industrials can defeat them in a game of ball but they can't in a debate.

The interior of the bakery has received a thorough whitewashing which adds greatly to its appearance.

Ed Beatie and Eddie Davis left for Oregon City Thursday morning, after sending commencement.

We have had several means of getting rained out but already and expect to have many more in the future.

Mrs. Dennis departed for her home in Washington, after spending a long visit with her children at school.

Abraham Hudson, ex pupil, came over from Grand Ronde and will commencement with friends at school.

The Bachelors' Club was the recipient of an excellent gooseberry pudding which was presented to it by Mrs. J. Williams.

There were many visitors at school on commencement day and our pupils received many compliments for their work in the industrial department and school rooms.

Richard Decker, ex-pupil who is running an engine for a logging camp in Washington, visited Chemawa on the latter part of the week on business.

Charlie Lovelace, and Harvey Sanders and Misses Margery Richmond, Minnie Richardson and Pearl Archambeau, of Stayton spent commencement day with friends and relatives at school.

The issue of the AMERICAN is a little late on account of an extra amount of job work for the commencement exercises etc and our readers will please excuse us if they don't get their papers just when they expect it.

Mose Rhodes is not only a good baker and engineer, but Wm showed his genius as an inventor and secured a patent right for a new Egg Tray which he made and has already sold one set and expects to get the whole family before he stops.

James Smith and Stephen Knight, class of '02, departed for their homes in California the latter part of the week.

Mr. Jno Moreau Lamble, a Flathead, stepped off the 8 o'clock train on the morning of Decoration Day and spent the day with Manuel Robles and Geo. Reyes. Mr. Lamble has been studying law in Portland and was admitted to the bar in Salem, May 29. Manuel and Cesar are very proud of him as he gave them some good advice.

Mr. Brewer has been trying for the past three weeks to arrange a game with Mt. Angel College, but can not succeed. This meeting will have to be postponed until Chautauqua. As we understand they are interested in the contest. Be a Rube they were a practice game from us and have been advertising themselves ever since as beating Chemawa.

Chas. Ahern and Wm. Mahone, class of '03, departed for their homes in Washington Monday on the 5 p. m. train. They were both printers and their printer friends were very sorry to see them leave as they were old standbys having worked two years at their trade and both have a fair knowledge of printing. We hope to hear of them in the future, running a big daily paper on the Puget Sound equivalent to the Pudding River Journal.

LITERARIES VS INDUSTRIALS.

The long-looked for and ever-expected game of base ball was played last Saturday afternoon, between the "Literaries" and "Industrials," which resulted in a score of 13 to 8 in favor of the latter.

Bad feelings had been existing between the two factions for some time in regard to base ball matters, and in order to make a decision as to which was really the best at playing base ball, a challenge was fired out by the men of "brain" and the men of "muscle" at once accepted it, and at 1:30 p. m. the afternoon proved hers. It was specified in the challenge that the winning team should be treated to strawberries and cream by the loser. The rules of the ga