

Tulalip Notes.

Edwin L. Chabroff, Indian School Supervisor and: the school of child visit in the school building. He returned again on the 11th of this month to visit the site for the new school. Keep your eyes on Tulalip.

A mob of over 100 persons from the school gather this week.

Edwin L. Chabroff, former agent at this Agency spent a few days this week with the family of Dr. Buchanan.

Every Indian (male) between the age of 12 and 16 is required to work three days in the week, every man seems to work cheerfully, some who were under age, and some who were over came in and gave a hand. This sort of work has always done the best work in June.

Agnes Clark's team along has purchased a pair of horses and several spring wagons.

R. D. Smith is now keeping "Bachelors" he expects to have a fine crop of grain to give to any of his friends to eat. A very fine lot of horses has been purchased with the money.

A. B. Arnold has now returned to boarding with Mr. Chabroff's family.

Miss West and Mrs. McCowan are visiting Indian friends in Olathe, Okla. They will be about about two weeks.

Honorable Fawcett Row, Superintendent of Indian schools, has been visiting the schools of Oklahoma. At the same time she is expressing duty for some talk about Phillips water case.

The new Supervisor is Mr. J. B. Alexander, at present Asst. Superintendent of the new Indian school. The office will be organized on his selection. Mr. Alexander has written the government facilities work and Asst. Superintendents for almost two years and brings to his new duties, experience and knowledge that will prove effective and valuable.—[Olathe News.]

Indian Summer Schools.

R. D. Smith of the Agency of the Intern, a number of institutions will be held this summer for the benefit of the teacher of the Indian. Those at present scheduled are as follows:—

Blue Ridge Agency, S. D., June 22-27.

Flanahan Indian School, S. D., July 1-5.

Roanoke Summer School, Va., during July.

Department of Indian Education, of the S. E. A., Minneapolis, Minn., July 7-11.

Pacific Coast Institute, Newport, Oregon, Aug. 18-22.

All cases of these Institutions topics of general interest pertaining to the welfare of the Indian will be discussed.

The first Indian summer school of record, consisting of representatives from nine boarding and two day schools, convened at Populap, Washington, in 1884. Similar meetings have been held each year since with greatly increased attendance. At the last meeting in 1899, upon the application of Miss Kinsie Keel, general superintendent of Indian Schools, the teachers in the Indian Service were admitted as a department of the National Educational Association, being now known as the "Department of Indian Education."

While all of these various institutes will hold interesting and instructive sessions, those of the Department of Indian Education will attract the widest attention. The local institutions will be conducted for the convenience and help of those teachers in the western schools who will find it impossible to attend the Minneapolis meeting. The Department of Indian Education will be attended by teachers from all over the country and its program contains papers, addresses, and lectures by the most eminent educationists of the United States. Through the youngest Department of the National Educational Association, it is one of the largest, having a membership of over 2,000, composed of the various employees of the Indian Service, who are met through-out the length and breadth of this country, engaged in the praiseworthy work of preparing the youthful aborigine for the duties of citizenship.

An interesting feature of the meeting of this Department will be an exhibit of in-
