

The coil of Rossylvan Chuberski was of great benefit to the school. His quiet easy ways of making valuable and useful suggestions being much appreciated by all. Mr. Chuberski knows from experience what are the requirements of a school like Chemawa.

Mr. Brewer, champion, is not only a crack shot at quails, pheasants and other "wild-birds" but is just now at short-hand goodness when they stick their heads out of the ground. He killed two yesterday and one this morning. How is that for a record breaker?

The firm of boys working on the back job, make an excellent job of their clean up, and these boys will make good furniture, as most all the benches that are being secured for that purpose are. It not only cleans up the out of the way places, but brings them into good use.

The Administration building was moved to its new location this week to make room for the boys' New 221,000 Dormitory. During moving the printers and office boys kept us at work and harring the telephone, steam, light and water connections being on everything used on as usual.

Ditches are being dug so as to place wire pipe under the lawn. When the pipe across the lawn will be placed and covered and covered with white clover and blue grass. Chemawa is a pretty place most of the time, but we now propose that it shall be the prettiest place ALL THE TIME.

Excitement ran very high yesterday when Mr. Brewer and a large lot of boys were hauling out the green stumps to fix a suitable place for the office to stand. Mr. Brewer learned to blast out stumps when he used to go to school at Chemawa and would hunt at the business. We were so busy by doing them.

There are two incidents, which occurred during vacation, that were almost overlooked and for lack of space very little can be said, which are the meetings of Mr. Parsons, Superintendent, to Miss May Hildgett and Mr. Talbot, Superintendent, to Miss Agnes McCoy. We all, of course, extend hearty congratulations to them all.

There was a tree-chopping contest this week between Mr. Campbell, Mr. Brewer and Mr. Caloss. Several of Chemawa's big trees had to give way to the march of progress and improvement. Mr. Brewer won with Mr. Campbell a close second, while Mr. Caloss came jogging along behind.

Rev. Jesse Kirk of Klamath Agency, visited the school this week, bringing his daughter to be enrolled. Mr. Kirk was highly pleased with Chemawa and we anticipate that others at Klamath will follow his example as Mr. Kirk has great influence with his people and is a great factor in helping them along Christian Educational and Civilizing Work.

Some years ago a boy entered this school at the age of eight. He proved to be dull but as years sped on he had a taste for literature, his mind improved and for the last few years he represented this school, which was widely known and caused his location, in the way of Christian faith, was taken to the Y. M. C. A. Convention held at Pacific Grove, Calif. When he graduated, which was in class '02, he went to his home in Sacramento, Cal., and there passed the High School examination and passed with good standing. Now he has a position as clerk in a California Fruit Association at a salary of thirty dollars per month, and that boy is Alfred Gillis.

John Pugh, ex-pro, graduate of Chemawa and who is successfully filling the position of shoemaker at Riverside Holist School, California, paid friends and school-mates a short visit in the latter part of August. Mr. Pugh is a lover of sports and especially tennis and football. His football was made, when here, to get up a good football team at his school this fall and winter as was evidenced by him taking two good players, Ben Neufus and Albert Peyer, down here. Chemawa was glad to have them go and help them out. It seems that a good many schools are looking to Chemawa for athletic material. We get so much muscle pulling requests that we always have a good supply to help our teachers and athletes out.
