

Pupils' Items,

(All over from last week.)

The turkeys' suffering is now over.

Rosa Brignone is a beautiful alto singer.

Three new boys have entered the tailor-shop.

James Arquet has been enrolled in the band.

The farmers are hauling in the winter supply of coal.

Miss Sherrard spent Thanksgiving with friends, in Petland.

Mr. Campbell returned the other day with a party of new pupils.

Shiney Willing and Maragery Hickman have entered the sixth grade.

Dr. Stephenson and Mrs. Sherrard look after the patients very carefully.

Miss O'Hare is giving drafting lessons to some of her sewing-room girls.

John Forter, ex-pupil, is visiting with friends and relatives at the school.

Mrs. Clouder and Miss Bowman spent Thanksgiving evening in Hayville.

The new pupils seem happy. There must surely be no place like Chemawa.

George O'By has returned from his summer vacation and we are glad to see him.

Vina DeVault went to Salem to spend her Thanksgiving dinner with her sisters.

Lucinda Davis is an expert housekeeper. She does her work very neatly and neatly.

The McBride Hall girls made up 110 half past nine and sewed carpet tags, one evening last week.

Who got that position that four girls tried to work in the McBride Hall? Wly. Susie Siegal did.

Sidney Willing has entered the school and he says it is the best place he has ever been in his life.

All the McBride Hall girls were invited in the patch-room to sew carpet tags, the other evening after study hour.

Some boys from here told me that this was a nice place so I thought I would come down and try it for three years.

Mr. William Landon of Sibleu was a visitor of Mr. Stoddemeyer's and several others Tuesday evening and Wednesday.

Miss Miller is having some curtains made for her class room, and some of her pupils are hemstitching them.

The Tailors are very busy making underwear, and work of evenings from six to half past eight, or during study hour.

Last Sunday Mr. St. Pierre had an excellent meeting with the boys. Seven new members were enrolled in the Y. M. C. A.

By some mistake, Miss Dohue's (teacher-mixed grade) name did not appear in the employed faculty in last week's issue of the paper.

Mabel Menay is a good housekeeper. She looks after the cottage and keeps it in good order. She is a pleasant girl to have around as she is always good natured.

We heard someone say that those "Christian sciences" (Domestic science) girls are all O. K. in making blouses, etc., as well as other nice articles. Who are they?

Miss Amy Sellers changed the patch-room, some time ago, and the patch-room girls work lots better than they did before. They mean to get through sewing carpet tags and have some nice carpets made in use for themselves.

Messrs. Simon Booth, Joshua Gibson, Hayes DeWitt, Chas. Newton, Richard Harris, and Manuel Bibles attended the Ball of New York at the Grand Opera House Monday evening.

This morning as we were working in the Small Boys' building Miss McFadden looked out of the window and saw the meat wagon, and saw them taking out the turkeys for our Thanksgiving dinner; Andrew Hittles was in there and was so glad he started in jumping around saying, "Turkey! Turkey! Turkey!" He got so badly excited that the next thing he knew he found himself tumbling backwards over a box. Now we all like something good to eat, but we must not get so excited about it as he did.
