

Mr. Woods and his boys are busy repairing the sewing room floor.

We all know Chemawa has the best band on the Pacific Coast.

Every time we work all day Mr. Foster gives us a sociable in the evening.

The Excelsior Literary Society will attend the Reliance's meeting on Thursday night.

The Chemawa boys worked very hard on the lawn, but had a sociable nearly every evening after their work.

There are some men working on the boy's new building, which will be called Mitchell Hall.

The boys have been working hard on the lawn and I am sure they are going to look very nice when the grass grows.

Miss Lena Flakbouner now works in McBride Hall on the front stairs and they are kept very neat.

The girls detail was changed the first of March and they all seem to like their new places of work.

Mrs. Campbell has made a rule in her grade that all of her pupils must mark themselves for conduct after this.

The garden boys are hard at work, plowing the soil and getting it ready to plant vegetables.

The baker boys made some tip-top apple pies on Friday. It did not take the Chemawa boys and girls very long to put those apple pies out of the way.

The boys say that there's good hunting around the swamps, but I can't see any thing but brown and red backed water-dogs.

Dolly Wiggins and her girls have been busy cleaning the hospital cellar, the shelves have been covered with all cloth and they look very nice.

We have been busy for the last two or three weeks working on the lawn to get the ground into shape so the grass will grow nicely.

Mr. Westley has about two acres of early potatoes planted.

We are going to have nice green lawns this summer.

The sewing room girls are going to make our Duck dresses for summer.

Augusta Martin is one of the waiters in employes mess house and she is doing fine there.

We are all glad to see Minnie Howard out of the hospital and going to school again.

A number of the girls went out for a walk and they were caught by the rain.

Corra Richardson made a new white apron to wear when she works in the sewing room.

Chemawa looks on very sick now. They have got signs up, "KEEP OFF THE GRASS." No grass yet, say the boys.

The laundry girls are glad to make a little money by washing some of the employes.

We enjoy seeing Emily Dewald's box of violets sitting near the walk of the McBride Hall.

The little white flowers in the hospital yards are all in full bloom and make a look very pleasant around there.

Katharine McDonald is taking rich lessons and she is learning very fast. She goes to Salem every Saturday for her lesson.

We hear that the sewing room girls are assisting in the poultry raising, as they are making some duck dresses. They will have to hurry a little as there will soon be a brood of young ducks hatched and the weather is rather cold yet.

There will be some work done in the commissary. They are going to put in ceiling to the third floor, and there will be a great deal of work in moving some articles from the shelves to make room for the carpenters. Now, we two smaller helpers will catch it.
