

Chemawa Indian Training School.

Among the public institutions in the vicinity of Salem none are more notified to the good will of the people than the Chemawa Indian Training School. Under the management of Superintendent T. W. Potter and assistant Superintendent W. P. Campbell, it has attained an efficiency that is a credit to these gentlemen. It is supported by the National Government and the opportunities offered to Indian boys and girls are of a nature to commend the action of the government in this regard. It is a small reparation for taking the land of this country from their fathers. The students have the advantage of learning trades as well as receiving a good education, so that they may go out into the world to make useful, self-supporting and law-abiding citizens.

Washington's birthday was recently observed at the school. We happened to be present at the exercises. The performance consisted of musical numbers, vocal recitation, recitations and an address of a patriotic nature. The program was prepared and presented with credit on the officers and members, and shows the progress the people are making and the great advantages of education. When we realize that the Chinese Race has been thousands of years reaching the present state of civilization, we are greatly surprised at the advancement made by those pupils in the short time they have enjoyed the privileges of educational facilities.—Oregon Law School Journal.

Entertained at Chemawa.

Friday afternoon a large party of young people from Salem went to Chemawa on the regular train in response to an invitation from Superintendent T. W. Potter to attend a dance in the gymnasium of the Salem Indian Training School. About forty of Salem's pleasure-loving young people took advantage of the opportunity for an evening of such pleasure and novelty. The party took lunches with them and ate in the gymnasium, after which a few hours were spent in the pleasure of the dance. Delightful music was furnished by the Indian band during the first part of the evening, and later Steelhammer's Orchestra discoursed sweet strains.

The gay party returned on the late train and reported a most enjoyable time, thanks to Superintendent Potter's hospitality.

Among those participating in the event were: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jussie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gray, Miss Lizzie Holverson, Lella Oronough, Lena Payne, Mae Payne, Hunk Geor, Ezz Geor, Margaret Packhurst, and Messrs. Joe Evans, J. F. Steelhammer, Frank Nyete, Harry Moore, Leo Steelhammer, W. S. Galena, Dr. E. A. Pierce and Basil Wagner.

Reliance Society.

The following is the program rendered at the meeting of the Reliance Literary Society Thursday evening:

Address.....President
 Dialogues... M. Wollan, J. Daniels, J. Arquette.
 Oration..... Oscar McCloud
 Vocal Selection..... Hiss Garrison
 Troubadour Quartet... S. Booth, J. Gilman,
 W. Augustin, J. Arquette
 History of Reliance Society... John Stacy
 Music..... Reliance Band.
 Debate—Resolved, That the Volunteer
 Soldiers have done more for the United States than the Regulars, in the late war.

Affirmative

Principal..... John Harris
 Colleagues..... J. Benson, W. Dyke

Negative

Principal..... Eugene Gelle
 Colleagues..... J. Cook, S. Moon.