Our new plants are growing fine in room 5. The girls say that their new home is like paradise.

We had a fine song service in the chapel on Sunday night.

The tailor shop will soon have a set of new tables then it will be all right.

Last Friday night, March 6th, we had quite a number of visitors from Salem.

Mr. Potter took some of the girls out walking yesterday which they enjoyed very much.

Charles Newton is making a handsome music case for some one at the McBride Hall.

The band has just received several pictures and are hard at work studying them.

We are glad to know that Leta LaMolner will soon be in school again after two months absence on account of sickness.

Mr. Childers has come back from his trip in the east where he has been for a vacation.

Some girls were disappointed last Sunday afternoon because they never went out riding on account of the rain.

Sunday afternoon Miss Hoffman took some girls out walking and they were caught in the hail and rain.

We have had beautiful weather the past two weeks and all hope this beautiful weather will continue.

The Estlin Book and the Dewey Society will meet and have a joint debate on the 15th of March.

We all will learn if we spend our time in profitable study, and keep digging at our books all the time, and there will be some very bright Indians in Chemawa.

Miss Gertrude Brewer is going to leave us tomorrow morning and we will all be very sorry to see her go away and hope she will return to Chemawa some day.

They are painting the small boys' home and also the sitting room.

Orders to make beautiful festooning collars are solicited by a number of the Priscilla Art Club.

The occasion of the party the other night was the departure of Gertrude Brewer. We are all sorry to see her leave.

"Old Sol" sinks behind the western horizon every evening. This is a new name for the sun. Miss Deane said the moon has another name but I have forgotten it.

In a few years from now Chemawa will be a nice little town. See how they are beautifying the grounds. When the grass grows it will look much better than it is now.

Wm. J. Davis is our new disciplinarian at Chemawa and we are all glad when Mr. Davis commands the boys, and all the boys do their best. Well boys do very best.

Mrs. Campbell and Irene went to town Saturday morning and remained all Sunday evening. Floy Evans and Lena Menrvey who work at the organ had things in good order when they came home.

What a credit it would be to our school if all of our young ladies were to leave it with the same opinion as Gertrude Brewer does. A talented Washington, one who treated every one equally and a refined young lady in every sense of the word. We all regret very much to see her leave us.

A little boy whose name is W. went to school the other day. Our teacher was very busy teaching us, and when we looked around the little boy was gone and then she dressed him up with an ill and called him three times but he was awakened, but when he did he was so proud to see every body laughing. The little boy must have had the neck or table.
