

gospel, He was a myth. I have met boys and girls older and larger than you who knew nothing about Him. This Jesus is the son of the living God, Himself. He came here upon this earth for what purpose? He came to bring the joys of Heaven down to poor creatures, just as you and I are, and your forefathers and your forefathers and mine.

"He walked this earth for thirty-three years, and then paid the purchased price of your soul and mine on Mt. Calvary. You marvel at the miracle he performed when he took five loaves and fed 5000 men women and children; and a few fishes and in like manner multiplied them by His only word. Can He not increase His, who is God, the Creator? and children, God creates everything; if you but stop and reflect a moment, everything you possess comes directly or indirectly from the hand of God. Man creates nothing. Man simply fashions and molds things. The materials come from the great Creator. Can man make wheat grow and sprout and ripen? Not at all, it is done by the hand of the Omnipotent God, who created it. It was then ground into flour and bread made, but it was still dead, and God then blessed this material and consequently fed those 5000 men, as well as the women and children.

"This Jesus came for no other purpose than to save our souls. How was He to do it? God the Father sent him here and He brought Heaven's graces with him. He established a society, He gathered a certain number of men about Him and told them, you are to go out into the whole world and preach to the people. That is what he told those men, His Apostles. You have heard of the Apostles. They formed the first great society of Christians. He gathered them around Him and gave them the doctrines of Heaven. "The Father sent Me, and I send you." The Father sent me with all power, and this power I give to you, go out to the whole world and preach this doctrine, and the living Christ shall be with you until the end of time, and he leded down that message with Heaven's graces. He told his apostles to go out into the world and preach this gospel to every living creature. He who believes and is baptized is saved. "That is the message from Jesus. He who believes and is baptized, he tells us, enters into his society, which was established to lead out that age of paganism, that age in which man knows not his God, nor why he was created. Therefore, children, when this baptism is received, it gives the soul the right to enter into the society with Jesus Christ himself, rootless. And all those who will not receive it will be lost, that is, shall never have the right to enter into the home in the skies and love Him and serve Him. He tells us his society is not of the earth, it is of Heaven.

He tells us furthermore, that we must keep the Commandments of God, and that we must receive His flesh and blood, and he tells us what we should do if we should happen to break a Commandment.

We must keep the Commandments he told the young man who, met him on his highroad travelling to Judaea, before he went Heaven. They saw him raise the dead, they saw him give strength to the lame, blind, sight to the eyes, hearing to the deaf ears and speech to the dumb tongue, and when they heard and saw all this young man, anxious, one day to see him in Heaven, he that society He had established, waited for him and said, "Come, teach me what I must do to inherit my soul" and what did the Master say? My dear young man, if you wish me to dwell with me to save your soul and have eternal life, "keep the Commandments of God." Now, children, there is no use of preaching unless we reach our consciences, that is, apply the words of the Holy Scriptures to our hearts. Are you keeping the Commandments of God? You must know first what the commandments are. God gave to Mr. Simal to Moses. Some men told you nine days that he ever gave you a commandment. Who are they to accuse the living God? Who are these men, women who dare to say that God has done this and that?

(Continued next week.)