

Chemawa vs. B. S. H.

Married.

The game of base ball between Chemawa and Bishop Scott Academy played on the school ground last Saturday afternoon was a one sided victory for our boys. The day was exceptionally fine for this out-door sport. The school turned out in force to cheer our boys on, but such a landslide was not expected.

The game called at 2:30 with the home team in the field and Morris in the box ready to deliver the "puzzles", and "puzzles" they were for the Portland team; 17 men going down to defeat without reaching first base. No score was made by the Portland team until the 7th inning when Smith and Downs each crossed the plate for one run, greatly to the delight of the visiting team, whose fate at home might have been worse.

Chemawa failed to score in the first and fourth innings, but the total of 35 runs is accredited to them just the same. Every man played his position well, which was just the opposite with their opponents, they, seemingly, not being able to handle the ball with sufficient rapidity and they lacked grip to hang on to the ball when they did get it. Morris showed skill when, with no one out and one man on third base, he retired three batters in succession. James Arquette acted as umpire and his decisions were fairly rendered to both teams.

The Bishop Scott Academy boys proved themselves to be gentlemen. Not a kick or grumble was witnessed during the entire game, but the decision of the umpire was taken as correct. It is not always that one meets such a pleasant team. We all hope the boys will make us another visit before the season is over. We like clean ball and evidences tend to show that they do. Come again boys.

At Jamestown near Dungeness February 28, 1903, Mr. John Allen and Miss Minerva McDaniel, Rev. M. Ellis, officiating. Mr. Allen was for a long time a pupil of the Puyallup school, and also at Tacoma. After which he went to Carlisle, Penn., where he remained for a time, after which he returned and was an employe at Chemawa. Miss McDaniels is from Trinity County, California, but spent six years at Chemawa, the latter part of the time as an employe, and where she gained an excellent reputation. The wedding took place at the house of Mr. Johnson Williams, the teacher there, which was artistically trimmed with evergreens, an exceedingly large evergreen bell being suspended from the center for the parties to stand under. Miss Rosa Johnson, a niece of the groom and former pupil at Puyallup, was bridesmaid, and Mr. P. Casselary, a neighbor, was groomsmen. About twenty-five or thirty of the relatives and friends were present.—Puget Sound Indian Guide.
