

Our Exchanges.

The Indian Leader lacks only an exchange column.

The Dictum Est is evidently very much averse to criticism.

The Red Man and Helper contains some nice illustrations in their last issue.

The editorial columns of the Reformatory Record are well worth reading.

The Indian's Friend for April comes to our exchange desk this week. This is a splendid number and contains much interesting information for every one in the service.

The Progress of March 16th has just reached us. Although late, it is not lacking in interesting material. However we believe a cover would improve its looks wonderfully.

The Gold and Blue, published by the students of the Latter Day Saints' University, Salt Lake City, is a welcome addition to our exchange list. The Gold and Blue is a twenty page booklet gotten up in a neat form and is very ably edited.

The Hetuck very wisely urges its subscribers to patronize advertisers who favor that paper. From our advertising columns comes our principal support, and we should endeavor to make our advertisements as profitable to our patrons as possible.

The February number of the Collegian arrived this week. The Collegian is evidently of the feminine sex, as it refers to itself editorially as "she." "She" shows a common failing of the sex in endeavoring to remain young. Welcome sister, we admire your handsome form and excellent make-up.

Our Advertisers,

We wish to call special attention to our advertising columns. It has been our endeavor to secure advertisements from only those most capable of supplying the wants of the Chemawa people to their advantage, as to price, variety and quality in order that we may patronize those who patronize us. We feel sure that Chemawa people are loyal enough to stand by our patrons, especially when they can buy as cheap or cheaper by doing so. Please look over our advertising columns before going to Salem.

The New York Racket Store has a new ad. in this issue. This firm has just opened up a large stock of spring goods, ladies' and gents' furnishing. Chemawa people will find it greatly to their interest to call on these people when in need of anything in their line.

The advertisement of J. N. Shantz, dealer in new and second hand furniture, 107 Court St., appears in another column. Here you can find any thing you wish in the house furnishing line at the lowest possible price. When in need of furniture of any kind you will save money by calling on Mr. Shantz.

Mr. Wilson's ad. will be found on the back page. Mr. Wilson is too well and favorably known among our bicycle enthusiasts to require any introduction. His high grade wheels and fair dealing have made him an enviable reputation at this place.

Items by Pupils.

Wild flowers are blooming in the woods. Jesse Baulne is back to school after a long illness.

Mary Smith is making herself a handsome black dress.

Della Poland is the dining-hall ser cant and is quite popular.

Emily Downale's patch of violets, near McBride Hall, are very pretty.

The third grade pupils are all much pleased with Miss Miller as their teacher.

Joe Briguone has come back to play ball. He will return to his work in two or three weeks.

The band boys are practising hard and will start on a tour in a short time. Success to them.

In the natural history class William Brannon was asked to describe the ears of a deer. His description was: "They are long and three cornered."
