

FROM ABROAD.

The Chilocco Farmer will be printed at the world's fair in St. Louis next year.

Mr. W. A. Root is now principal teacher at the Pine Ridge Agency boarding school.

Clerk G. D. McQuesten has been transferred from Puyallup to Yakima Agency.

Rev. McCloud, pastor of the Methodist church at Tahlequah, I. T., is a full blooded Cherokee Indian.

The printing department at Chilocco added $500 worth of material to its equipment during the past month.

Supervisor M. F. Holland will succeed Supervisor Chalcraft as supervisor of this district, while the latter is transferred to Mr. Holland's former district.

Mr. Frank Ferry, formerly superintendent of the Puyallup school, is now in business in Tacoma. Supt. H. F. Liston, of Round Valley, Cal., is now at the helm of the Puyallup school.

Supt. Chas. E. Snell has been promoted from Greenville, Cal., to Pala, Cal., where he will have charge of the Warner Ranch, B. B. Custer, formerly disciplinarian at Phoenix, will succeed him at Greenville.

Robt. A. Lovegrove, farmer, has been transferred from the Carson school to Riverside, Cal. At the time of his departure from Carson, Mrs. Lovegrove was taken sick and was taken to San Francisco for medical treatment, where she died a few days later.

An old man who shot a boy in his melon patch has been mulcted in the sum of $5,000, says an exchange. We don't know just how tender a boy's watermelon patch is, but any man who would shot a boy in his melon patch ought to be mulcted.—Bloomington Eye.

Inspector Jenkins is an ex-printer, and while in the printing office on Thursday was shocked and amazed to learn that the detail had never seen type lice. He promptly remedied the oversight on the part of the printer, and the boys now know more than they did before.—Native American.

The Boston Herald speaks of Chas. Bender, an ex-Carlisle student, as being "the most remarkable of American League pitchers," and then mentions him in a way which evidently explains the "why of it." It says: "Chas. Albert Bender, a child of the forest, is one the most exemplary young men playing ball. Tobacco, liquors and bad language never sully his lips. In spare moments he improves his mind reading society notes, box scores and high-class magazines."—[Indian's Friend.

The last annual report from the dead letter office shows that the total receipts for the year were something over 10,000,000 pieces, the largest in the history of the office, exceeding those of the preceding year by some 850,000 pieces. Of the aggregate number, 8,895,205 pieces were opened. The money fund in open letters amounted to $48,634, but this sum included money (generally coin) found loose in the mails or in postoffices and consigned to the dead letter office. Commercial paper found, such as drafts, checks, money orders, etc., represented a face value of $1,493,563.

Robt. M. Cousar, assistant superintendent of Phoenix Indian school, died at his home at the school Wednesday, Sept. 16, of tuberculosis. A last sad look at the features of their departed friend was taken on Thursday by pupils and employes, and on Thursday night Mrs. Cousar started with the remains for his former home in Somerville, Tenn., where they will be interred. Miss Robinson accompanied her to San Antonio, Tex., Mrs. Cousar's sister meeting her there. Mr. Cousar was a Christian gentleman, one of God's noblemen, and commanded the respect and admiration of all who knew him. The sympathy of the entire school is extended to Mrs. Cousar in her bereavement.—[Native American.
