

SOCIETIES MEET.

The Excelsior, Reliance, Nonpareil and Estelle Reel literary societies met and reorganized last Monday evening, and will meet every Thursday evening hereafter. The following officers were elected by the different societies.

Excelsior: President, Thos. Otto; vice-president, Frank Sorahan; secretary, Peter Lucier; treasurer, Geo. Olney; serg't-at-arms, Zepher Gardipi; critic, Harry Stuart; Reliance: President, Jesse Crook; vice president, Percy Johnson; secretary, John Benson; treasurer, Frank Hamilton; Serg't-at-arms, Richard Harris; asst. serg't-at-arms, Joshua Gibson; critic, Julian Jim; cor. sec'y, Silas Moon.

Nonpareil: Pres., Blanche Davis; vice-president, Winnie Stoddard; secretary, Irene Campbell; treasurer, Delia Clark; serg't-at-arms, Alice Williams; asst. serg't-at-arms, Fay Charles; editor, Ollouise Sullivan; critic, Cecile Johnson.

Estelle Reels: President, Mable McKay; vice president, Louisa Herman; secretary, Myrtle Johnson; treasurer, Ella Brewer; serg't-at-arms, Nora Mann; asst. serg't-at-arms, Lena Charley; reporter, Hattie Mann; musician, Annie Hayes.

A NEW RULE.

Hon. Levi Chubbock, Special Inspector of Agricultural of the Interior Department, has succeeded in having the rules of the Civil service changed so that graduates from State Agricultural colleges will be eligible for appointment to the government Indian service as farmers and industrial teachers without further civil service examination. That certainly will prove very beneficial to the service as it will induce college men, who have studied farming scientifically as well as practically, to enter the Indian service. Such men equipped with first class education will prove successful teachers of agriculture, dairying, stock-raising, etc., as well as mere farmers which is very important as it is certainly necessary.

WHO WILL BE NEXT?

The following ex-pupils of Chemawa have married recently, viz: Charles Decker, Emma Sackman, Edward Colemire and May McCrea. Mr. Decker married a very nice young white lady at Snoquallamie Falls, Wn., where he is filling a good paying position in a saw mill. Mr. Colemire was married to Miss Sackman and they are comfortably situated on their farm near Tracyton, Wash. A lucky young business man of Chewelah, Wash., captured May McCrae, and they are very happy in their new home.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT US.

The CHEMAWA AMERICAN is interesting to us, both because it is published by an Indian Training School, and because it is a weekly. It is a good little paper.—Santa Jose (Cal.) Bell.

The CHEMAWA AMERICAN is an attractive and well organized little paper from cover to advertising. This month the magazine is in brown and grey and presents a very neat appearance. The reading material, too, is really worth while; many of the articles show some degree of literary ability. Accept our congratulations, Chemawa! —Chico (Cal.) Normal Record.

On Wednesday evening Inspector Chubbock addressed the students and faculty on modern agriculture and the proper method of teaching it. It was a most able and interesting discourse and will result in great good to this school. We hope to publish the entire address in our next issue.