

school he tried farming, at home, and various other kinds of work including working in the mines in California. He at last realized that a trade was a good thing to fall back on, and he is now doing a good paying business. It is a splendid thing to learn a trade; you may never use it for years, but when you need it badly, you have got it, because you cannot lose it.

SOMEBODY.

There was somebody who said unkind words which hurt somebody else. Was it you?

There was somebody who was selfish and thoughtless in her home. Was it you?

There was somebody who spoke unkindly of somebody else. Was it you?

There was somebody who found nothing but fault with everything in the belongings of her friend. Was it you?

There was somebody who borrowed a book and kept it for months. Was it you?

There was somebody who never stopped to think who was hurt by the sarcastic word. Was it you?

There was somebody who, day in and day out, never did anything to make anybody else happy. Was it you?

There was somebody who disobeyed their teacher and made her a great deal of trouble and sorrow. Was it you?—Ex.

There was somebody who was late to work. Was it you?

There was somebody who criticized another employes work. Was it you?

There was somebody who spent all of their last year's earnings. Was it you?

HARD TRAVELING.

Supt. Potter returned last Saturday night with a large party of new pupils from the Lummi Reservation.

While there he and Mr. Bremner, the Day school teacher had to encounter some very severe wintry weather, in visiting the Indian homes. The roads being impassable for wagons, they had to walk, some days a distance of twenty miles in the snow storms and cold weather. The Lummi reservation is near the British Columbia line in northwest Washington and is one of the five reservations belonging to the Tulalip Agency.

A WISE PARENT.

Mr. Thos. M. Ewye, of Port Gamble, Wash., who recently brought his daughter to this school, writes to the Superintendent as follows: "I wish to say to you that it is my wish that my daughter should be taught how to sew, to operate a sewing machine and such work as that which is taught in the sewing room which will be of some use to her when she grows up. I was very sorry that I did not see you when I was up there for I would have told you personally all about it. I was, indeed, highly pleased with the place and the people (employes). I am glad that I took Bertha there, because the large schools are the ones children should attend and the farther away from home they are the better off they are. Bertha likes the place and the people, which is the best thing because I know she is contented."

Miss Irene Campbell gave a reception at her home to about twenty of the young people of Chemawa, Wednesday evening, in honor of Miss Gertrude Brewer, of Tacoma, Wash., who is visiting at the school. The evening's program consisted of music and the two well known and popular polar games, "flinch" and "pit." Light refreshments were served. The entire evening was most heartily enjoyed by all present.

The regular monthly school entertainment will be held Saturday evening in the chapel.
