

PUPILS' ITEMS

School again!

Farewell to Santa Claus till next December.

Band boys like to have band practice every night.

Odessa Dodson is working in the hospital drug room.

John Smith is working in the blacksmith shop again.

We are all glad to start school again after the holidays.

Floyd Hayden returned to school again after a short visit home.

The dairy boys are anxiously waiting for the new barn to be finished.

We all hope that the street car line will reach Chemawa before next month.

Philip Sooksoit is getting to be quite an expert at throwing the basket-ball.

Mr. Donald Campbell is paying Chemawa a visit, and we are all glad to see him.

The Sixth and Seventh grade pupils are having a test in their studies at present.

Mabel McKay got so many presents that she could not carry them to the McBride Hall.

The Fifth A class are nearly through with their examination of which they are very glad.

Christmas and New Year were enjoyed very much by all the pupils, and especially the tree which was decorated beautifully, and we all had a good time during the holidays.

William Watkins and Lee Evans are the new apprentices of the wagon making department.

Harry and Paul Queachpalma will surely make fine musicians. They are always practicing.

The first team basketball girls presented their manager a pair of gold cuff buttons on Christmas eve.

Mr. Campbell tried to show the printer boys how to throw basketball, last Monday evening before the game began.

John Logsdan, of Grande Ronde, Oregon, arrived this morning to visit his son, Carl. He visited all the shops.

Donald Campbell is not very big, but "O! my" it didn't take him long to call the basketball game off Monday evening.

Effie Olafson left Monday evening for her home in Alaska. We were sorry to see Effie go as she was one of Mrs. Campbell's brightest pupils.

The Eighth Grade has just finished their examination and are now writing compositions. Their compositions are always welcome for publication in the CHEMAWA AMERICAN.

Miss O'Here is glad to have some of her old dress makers back into the sewing room again, when the detail changes.

The Yakima basket ball team and the Printers had a game last Monday evening which was very enjoyable to the pupils who attended to it. The score was fifteen to fourteen in favor of the Yakima boys.

There is a time boys when we will have to get out for ourselves so don't leave the New Year of 1906 waste, for 1907 will soon be at our feet and you will wonder what you have done this long year of 1906, don't be what you were last year but try and be some body that is better.
