Happy New Year!

Mr. Chalcraft has gone to Idaho after more pupils.

Say, Benson, what did you get for Christmas?

Examinations are in order in the Sixth and Seventh Grades.

The basket ball games were very much enjoyed on New Year's night.

We are getting so many new pupils that we hardly know where to put them.

Mr. Herbert J. Campbell, of Portland, spent New Year with his parents at Chemawa.

Colonel Randlett and Lew Stelzner dined with Mr. Campbell and family on New Year's Day.

One of our boys received a letter from Ed Warbus stating that he is just about to be married.

James Jefferson received a beautiful white vest for Christmas present from one of his Chemawa friends.

Mrs. Chalcraft was "at home" to her friends on New Year's Day and entertained in her usual hospitable way.

The choir sang a fine selection on Sunday night "The Spacious Firmament on High." Our chaplain Mr. Forbes, praised the singing very much.

Miss Dohse certainly does make delicious chow-chow and she was generous enough to give some of it to her friends who greatly appreciated her kindness.

Mr. Donald P. Campbell, of the Spokane Chronicle, surprised his parents by a visit on the Sunday before New Year's Day. Mr. Campbell will spend a week at Chemawa.

Ethel Parrish, of Portland High School, who has been spending the holidays vacation with Miss Dohse has returned to Portland last Monday to resume her studies.

About three weeks ago an informal meeting was held by the printers for the purpose of organizing a basket ball team. At the time money was appropriated to obtain the needed materials. The next day practice hours were arranged, but for some reason, after practicing for about a week our coach has left us. Now we are looking for an able man to fill the place.

Assistant Superintendent W. P. Campbell received a letter from A. J. Standing, of Carlisle, Pa., in which he says:

"The American is a weekly visitor to my room for which I am indebted to you and this week I was much pleased with the cartoon on Alaska. It is true, and gives the situation at a glance. I cannot understand how it is that the United States can be so liberal and not be just.

The Hiawatha Club held its regular meeting Thursday evening. After the minutes and other routine work of the club was transacted, the rest of the evening was spent in the initiation of nine new members to the club after a general good time was had in the congratulation given the newly made members the club then proceeded to business again electing or appointing different committees. Time being limited the club was forced to adjourn with a good bit of business left on the table for next Thursday meeting. The club is now on a thoroughly organized basis with many members, and bids well to become popular. If any one is desirous to become a member of the Hiawatha Club apply to Rick he is the chairman of the membership committee.
