CHEMAWA is a busy place. From early in the morning till five o'clock in the evening every body has some duty to perform or some place to fill.

TAKE A STROLL through some of the beautiful woods that surround Chemawa and you will find "the pussy willows," are just awakening from their sleep. The first indication that spring is near.

HURRAH! for our basket-ball players. Judging from the game last Friday night between the first team and the "Blue Boys" we have no doubt, but that we could more than hold our own against almost any other team in the State. Why not arrange for a match with some of our neighbors and show our ability and agility abroad as well as at home.

IN ONE of our exchanges had for its motto "Esse quam Videre"—To be rather than to seem. You should be thorough in all we undertake whether it be in the school rooms or shops. It is very easy to drift along in a half-hearted way and to all appearances look as though we were doing all that we could to improve our opportunities. But if we ask ourselves the question "Am I really getting what I should out of my school," then we will see wherein we are neglectful. To be conscious of our own shortcomings is a proof that we are heading toward the road "Improvement." This is the turning points in our lives once on this road, if we do not stop at the stations "Laziness" Boys and girls march right on straight and steady we'll reach the goal, if we persevere and keep true to our purpose "To be somebody."

Indian Institute

The Pacific Coast Indian Institute will be held at San Francisco, California, being into the National Indian Teachers Institute. It will be held in connection with the Forty-fifth Annual Convention of the National Educational Association July 9-13, and the Indian division will probably be continued through the ensuing week. This will afford employes an exceptional opportunity for mental exchange of views as to methods and systems, and for the discussion of timely subjects. There should be a large attendance of Indian Workers.

TOM CRONISE'S STUDIO

It would be well for all those who desire a good photograph of themselves to visit the art gallery of Tom Cronise and have themselves photographed. His pictures are admired by all who have viewed them, and his prices are exceedingly liberal considering the excellence of his work
