FOUND—By the printing office a beautiful handkerchief. Owner call at the printing office and prove property.

Alice Tufts made her first visit at Chemawa last Saturday. Alice was here but ten minutes when she fell dead in love with Chemawa just like many others have done. Alice's visit will be remembered and hope it will not be long when she will be with us again.

We are still missing Mrs. Campbell's presence about the grounds, in the school room, in the singing class and also we missed her support of good news in the CHEMAWA AMERICAN. We sincerely hope for her recovery from illness soon.

RECIPE FOR PUMPKIN PIE

"I saw old horse shoes laying on the road that looked like pumpkin pies, like my mother use to make."

After holding the chair as a president for one year and six months, Alice Williams was elected treasurer of the Nonpareil Society.

The sixth grade pupils are still digging at the mental arithmetic. They will succeed if they don't give up too soon.

The Nonpareil Society elected new officers last meeting, and spent the rest of the evening visiting the Excelsior Society which was a very enjoyable visit. Bessie Chilouin is the President of the Nonpareil Society. Bessie is taking hold of things rather suspicious so you can look forward for some excellent debating.

Last Wednesday evening, the Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting in room No. 9. Before the roll call, E. Williams was called upon for a prayer. And after singing a song "Stand up for Jesus," Albert Garry gave an encouraging talk of the subject. "Earnestness." All the members seemed to listened closely. After having enjoyable time, the meeting was thrown open to business.

Last Monday evening Assistant Supt. Campbell gave us an interesting talk in the assembly hall. It is a pleasure to listen to Mr. Campbell, as he has a way of explaining certain points which we cannot understand, his explanations are fully understood by all, with the exception of a few "jaw-breakers." What he talked about was interesting as well as useful knowledge for all of us to know, and hope we will hear from him again.
