

They say that M. Sampson whistles by note.

Monday afternoon we had a fire drill at the school building.

The Nonpareil society received eight new members last meeting.

Mattie Hayden is doing excellent work in her ward at the hospital.

Harry J. Mattocks the new blacksmith entered upon duty March the 6th.

The members of the Nonpareil society now have their colors, for the year.

Clara Reed is working in the dining hall and is a very fast worker.

Lizzie Frazier is up and around and will soon be attending school again.

Elvira Bain will try to make three dresses this week so she can have a piece of cake.

Miss La Breche and Miss Lavina DeVault won a prize for being the swiftest dress makers.

Details changed Monday. Those who went to school in the morning go in the afternoon now.

Miss Nellie Sloan is doing nicely in cutting out dresses. One afternoon she cut out 24 dresses.

The wagon-makers are assisting the carpenters in making doors for the wardrobes in Mitchell Hall.

The basket-ball girls have been doing a good deal of practicing lately as they expect to play with Willamette University soon.

In the sixth grade we have but one good reporter. This bright young lady is Alice Williams. During the past few months we have had a great number of her reports to read, which were interesting. Keep it up Alice, remember that honor lies upon doing well.

Is it not better for us to know our weaknesses than to be blind of them? Is it not better to have tried at all? Strength comes from effort.

Fred Irving is becoming a good coat maker. It is interesting to watch some of our youngest coat makers work and it is surprising to see the fine work they do.

John Sulky and Paul Lafferty are now on the garden detail. They have been working in the carpenter shop all winter and feel like getting out in the open air and handling the plow.

Adeline Robinson has entered the 4th grade, Weulecie Downie has been promoted to the third A, Sallie Boswell to the fourth grade and Harry and May Mercier from fourth to fifth grade.

Bessie Chilquin is the leader of the Y. W. C. A. Next meeting her subject being "Obedience." Louisa Murray lead the last meeting. Her topic was "What Christianity has done for the world."

Mr. Forbes, of Salem, called a meeting for the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening and gave us an interesting talk. He also explained to us about the Y. M. C. A. convention, which will be held at Portland. This convention was to be held at Eugene, but for some reason they decided to have it at Portland.

The reading room in Mitchell Hall has been completed and is now ready for use. It is said that it was accomplished by the Y. M. C. A., but we must not consider that it was made by all the members. We must think of John Benson, the first one who planned to make it. The reading room is very appropriate, and there are lots of books that all the young men can enjoy reading.
