

Mrs. Chalcraft, Pickering and Alice were in Portland on Wednesday.

Miss Dohse went to Portland Friday evening and returned Sunday night.

Mr. Charles Henderson is visiting his father Robert, the Post Master.

Mr. and Mrs. Spink spent Sunday in Salem with their daughter, Claudia.

What was wrong at the Club? Banker Hutchinson was receiving prunes by the envelopeful.

Misses Gertrude Brewer and Lizzie Westley spent several days in Polk County visiting friends.

The boy who never enter a saloon may miss a little experience, but he escapes a whole lot of heart-ache.—Barn Horn.

Miss F. Newcomb of Willamette University is here spending her spring vacation with her mother, Mrs. Newcomb, the little boys' matron.

The representative of the Scanton Correspondence School was out Tuesday to call on Mrs. Spink, who is thinking of taking a course with that school.

On a trip, over the plant, one early morning, Mr. Campbell observed several small boys under Mr. Spink's cottage hunting chicken feathers. Mr. Spink is a Southern man and has weakness for chickens.

Miss Reel seemed much pleased with the Phoenix school on her recent visit and noted many marked improvements. She especially complimented the classroom work and the school gardens and remarked on the neatness of the children, and their good singing, and the beautiful school grounds, and the efficient and good looking band of instructors, all of which is concurred in by the Native American.

Mr. Beck, the tailor, received last week a certified check for sixty dollars from the Eilers Piano House in Portland, Oregon, which he won as one of the prizes in their word contest.

Dr. Winslow, of Genoa has been suffering from an attack of lagrippe. A number of his employes and pupils have been ill with the same disease.—The Indian Leader.

RETAILING A PIG

Chief Clerk, Spink ordered pigs feet, spare ribs and pork chops last month and his pig was only completed when he received by mail recently the part of the pig he had forgotten to order and which usually comes last, the tail.

The north bound train Saturday afternoon was over six hours late, consequently many of the employes and pupils who were in Salem had to walk back from the Fair Grounds, and John Benson had a long wait before going to Portland to attend the Y. M. C. A. Convention.

Alex Bayles, for many years a pupil of Chemawa, writes that he still remembers the school. He sent best wishes to the Excelsior Literary Society of which he was once an active member. Alex is working in a logging camp near LaMoine in northern California and doing well financially. He says he would like to visit Chemawa, and may in the near future.

GLAD TO COME BACK TO CHEMAWA.

Mr. Adolph Farrow, who resigned last December to look after his property at Umatilla, has been reinstated and he returned last Tuesday to his old post as shoe and harnessmaker.

Mr. Farrow learned his trade at Chemawa and has been a very efficient instructor in shoe and harnessmaking here for the last four years. A hearty welcome awaited his return to Chemawa.