

How was the oyster soup, Blue?

The fifth grade pupils are all wondering when they are going have their examination.

The fifth grade has named their tree, Colonel Randlett. We hope to have the best tree of all.

The engineers planted four young trees on the lawn in front of the power house on Arbor day.

The eighth grade, A class pupils are posting this week. They will take a new account next week.

The Y. M. C. A. from Salem are coming out next Friday and spend the evening with us in the Chapel.

The base ball players are beginning to practice on their old field which has been plowed and smoothed over.

Frank Booth gave the 4th grade a very nice talk about laying the cable in Alaska, last Wednesday morning.

Mr. Brewer is busy every day blasting the stumps behind the school house. He blasts fifty stumps in a day.

Nellie Sloan is looking for her friend Miss Frances Sampson from Ronan, Mont., any time this month.

The Salem High School will play base ball against the Chemawa team on Saturday, April the twentieth.

Bartolome Lusada is now working in the tailor shop. He is getting to be an expert in handling thread and needle.

Jessie LaBreach is one of the best dressmakers in the sewing room. She is now making a white dress for Amanda Leggett.

Jack Upham went to Salem last Saturday to get his snare Drum fixed. He is also getting expert in handling his chop sticks.

Mrs. Cloutier read to her pupils about the destruction of San Francisco. They were all interested.

Mr. Albert Payne is contemplating singing that song "Two little girls loved one little boy" prepare yourselves for a treat.

Louise Murray certainly did surprise her many friends by being able to play so well on the piano as she has not taken so many lessons.

Miss Jones says that there is as sweet music in a typewriter as there is in a piano, that may be so, it depends upon who the musician is.

In a contest held last Saturday night by the Y. M. C. A. at Old Chemawa, Albert Garry took second prize of six eggs by a baritone solo.

Cyril Morresette left yesterday morning for Redding, California. He intends to see some of California's scenery before he comes northward again.

Benjamin Wilson, after working in the wood shed for a while, has returned back in the harness shop, to continue his trade which he has nearly completed.

Mrs. Theiz left for Washington, D. C., Monday morning. We were all sorry to see her go, but our wish is that she will enjoy good health and also have a good time.

Eugene Williams and Robert Davis are back in the paint shop again and are going to help the wagon makers paint the additures that has been added to the buildings.

Carl Gaffee is more than satisfied with his industrial work. He is getting along very nicely. We all hope that he will have all kinds of roses to give to the pupils this summer.