

PUPILS' ITEMS

The hospital boys are enjoying camping.

The tailors are busy making trousers this week.

The engineers are cleaning the boilers this week.

Martin Sampson made a very fine desk for himself.

Jane Evans ate Sunday dinner with Miss Jones at the mess.

William Palmer and Moshier Johnson are helping Mr. Lansing.

Joseph and Henry Dillstrom have entered the eighth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace spent Saturday and Sunday in Portland.

The wagon makers are repairing the transoms of Mitchell Hall.

The sewing room girls will finish the gingham dresses this week.

Jhon Kelly returned to the school from Grande Ronde June 2nd.

Tuesday was home letter writing day for the patients in the hospital.

Mr. Campbell left this morning for California on a business trip.

Oscar Boy is now working in the baker shop. He is doing nicely.

Last Wednesday afternoon Martin Sampson paid the printing office a visit.

Miss Harrold had a pleasant visit with her brother and his family Sunday afternoon.

John Sulkey and Harry Queachpama are busy in the carpenter shop making base-blocks for the middle sized boys' home. It will take about 500 pieces to complete the requirements of this building.

Lizzie Galbreath received a postal card from a friend saying, "Oh, how sweet it is to be at Chemawa when the roses are in bloom; how bitter to be away from school and to think of those beautiful flowers and can not get them."

Mr. and Mrs. Macey Williams and Mrs. Merriman were the guests of Mrs. Cloutier Sunday and Monday, being on their way from Southern Oregon to Seattle, their future residence.

Dr. Fryer has been known to escort a few through his "Open Air Sanitarium Park."

Mrs. Teabo when will you give us that violin solo, you promised not very long ago?

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harvey, of Salem, visited Mr. and Mrs. Cooper on Decoration Day.

Martin Sampson finished the yoke for Mr. Chalcraft's carriage last Wednesday afternoon.

Jars, sugar and strawberries seem to be the general items for the housekeeper these days.

The seamstress, Miss Frizzel, took charge of the sewing room on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Teabo and Miss Herald took a pleasant walk to Haysville to visit Miss Herald's home.

The spider-web social given by Miss Headly last Monday evening was a very enjoyable affair.

Mr. Lovelace was experimenting how to make another kind of rake in the wagon shop, Wednesday.

Katie Henry is one of the best harp players among the girls. She is teaching some of her friends to play.

The boys are digging a ditch for the water pipes to their temporary home, the horse and the cow barns.

Miss Ethel Frizzell of Salem, is filling the position of seamstress temporarily during the absence of Miss O'Here.

One of the pupils while in Salem met Mrs. Overman and she sent many kind regards to her friends in Chemawa.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. were very much pleased to have Annie Miller and Mari Johnson join their society.

Interesting souvenir postal cards have been received from James R. Smith who is now in New York City having a position as oiler in one of the shops there.

Wednesday evening we were re-seated in the chapel. The choir is now seated on the platform, and the band boys took the place formerly occupied by the choir.

John Bouchard is very busy every afternoon planting potatoes back of the school building this week. He is a good steady worker and does not waste time.