

LOCALS

Miss O'Here and Emma Cayou visited the printing office this week.

A large party from Silverton visited the school rooms on Monday afternoon.

We are having more rain but just enough to keep the dust well settled.

Mr. Herbert Campbell spent several days in Portland on business this week.

Miss Headley gave a party on Monday night in honor of her friend, Miss Shahan.

Mr. Lovelace took a business trip to Portland Saturday and returned Sunday evening.

Miss Harold's brother and family were out Sunday to spend the afternoon with her.

A "small and select" musicale at Mrs. Chalcraft's on Sunday evening was very much enjoyed.

Last Saturday Mr. Cooper treated his second team base-ball boys, with strawberry short cake.

The tailor baseball team expects to play against the harness makers some time next week.

Louise Murray, Ivy Dodson and Harry Queachpahma had the highest averages in the 7th grade this month.

A number of male employes went to the fair grounds election day the voting booth for Chemawa was located there.

On Monday afternoon, the crowd of visiting girls were visiting every department accompanied by our superintendent.

We have an artist in the 6th grade who will astonish some of the other grades when his work is put on exhibition.

Mrs. Campbell is very much pleased with Joseph Dillstrom as he does lovely drawing. He is a sixth grade pupil.

In counting the misspelled words for last quarter in the eighth grade, we find that Philip Sorahan has missed only one.

We are glad to hear of Mr. Donald Campbell's promotion. He is now the athletic editor of the Spokane Chronicle.

Frank Sorahan left for Toledo, Oregon, Saturday where he will enter a blacksmith shop and work out the Chemawa idea.

The eighth grade are going to have a picnic either today or tomorrow. They are going down to Bibers Lake where all expect to have a good time.

Mr. Teabo took Miss Irene and Mr. Herbert Campbell to town on Friday afternoon in his new carriage. They attended the game between the U. of O. and Willamette base-ball teams.

While the boys of Mr. Westley's detail were picking strawberries last Monday to their surprise Mrs. Cox accompanied by several girls one of whom had never seen strawberries grow, came out to visit them.

Victor Johnson, who is a graduate from the Carlisle school, visited his sister, Myrtle, on Sunday. He is an ambitious, thoughtful young man who will attend Dartmouth College, next year. We wish him success.

Every boy who works on the detail keeping the grounds in order, has his hat and coat decorated with the most beautiful roses. Flowers in a man's hat looks "Injunny," boys. You wouldn't see any of the men employes decorating themselves in such a fashion. A small bud or rose on the button hole is all right, but a boy looks silly, silly, silly who covers his coat and hat with flowers like a girl.
