

* * * * *

PUPILS' ITEMS CONTINUED

* * * * *

The seventh grade enjoyed hearing "The bridge of the Gods."

In the final examination, Alfred Lane stood highest in the seventh grade.

Belle Dilstrom is making herself a pretty blue lawn dress for commencement.

The school gardens will soon be inspected. Which grade will get the first prize?

Peter Seltice is becoming a good artist and the same time he is learning a new song.

Webster Hudson carried off the honors in the 6th grade at the final test. His average being 95.

The pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades have finished their examination, or final test.

The girls of McBride Hall passed a pleasant evening Thursday, ripping old coats and vests for carpet rags.

Nellie Davis who has been a pupil here in Chemawa for eight years will return to her home in Covelo, Cal.

The boys and girls who failed in the final examination now see how foolish it is to waste time during school hours.

Ask Carl Geffe why he didn't want to pole vault Tuesday evening. Was it his ankle or was it his back that was sore.

The seventh grade has finished its examination. Alfred Lane standing at the head of the class with an average of 97 1/2 per cent.

The sixth grade pupils went out into their gardens on Friday, and the hard work they put upon it is plainly seen, as the weeds have all disappeared.

Miss Ethel Parrish taught the school last Monday on Miss Dohse's place.

Mary McCleod is making herself a poka-dot gown for summer dress.

Miss Louise Murray is embroidering herself a beautiful white linen collar.

The sewing room girls are about to finish the curtains for Mc Bride Hall.

Miss Eva Woods received a beautiful little writing desk from her parents as a birthday gift.

Mr. Cooper sends butter over to the kitchen for supper almost every evening for the past three weeks.

We, the pupils of the seventh grade, are all very sorry to hear of the death of Wallace Pedro, one of our former classmates.

Some of the pupils who just merely passed and will be promoted will find out that they will have to work hard next year to keep up with their class.

Someone who is very fond of raw turnips made a raid on the gardens. The seventh grade pupils says that next year turnips will not be on their lists.

Wallace Pedro, a former Chemawa pupil died at his home at Klamath Agency. Wallace was an exceptionally good artist his water color painting being especially good. He was a good, faithful boy and his death is greatly lamented.

The Y. W. C. A. held its meeting in the usual place last Wednesday evening. The officers and committee all got up and gave a talk after which Mrs. Chalcraft and Misses Jones and Bowman spoke some encouraging words to the members. Miss Johnson will be the leader next week. Her topic will be "The Power of Prayer" and all girls who are not members are cordially invited to visit.