

The farmers are hauling hay.

Nellie Clark invited several boys out to "Old Chemawa" to see his wigwam, which he made the other day.

Miss Dohse took several girls to Hayes to get cherries last Sunday evening. They get what they wanted?

Who did not know that William Beach is a cyclist until we saw him riding around the race-track the other day.

Thomas Holden is getting to be quite a sprinter. We think that he will take first prize in the first field meet here.

Samuel Sampson who has been staying in Mitchell Hall is now captain of the company.

A number of girls accompanied by Teabo spent Sunday afternoon sitting under the shade of the old pine near Chemawa.

Some of the girls are so fond of cherries they will walk a mile in the hot sun to climb trees to get them. But did anybody ever see such delicious cherries as we have here?

At the town social Monday evening a number of eating cherries was enjoyed by a number of spectators. Nellie Sloan led herself to the crowd that she could eat more and faster than Jessie Leuche.

Who dares to say our first team isn't the best? They have proved their superiority at base-ball and we know they will stand a good show of winning the championship while at Chautauqua. Hurrah for our base-ball team!

One day I was greatly surprised while sitting at "Old Chemawa" to see some old-fashioned wigwams which were made by the boys of the new barns. These are now camping there and enjoying life in the open air.

Ollie Larkin is working for Mrs. Cooper and does her work nicely.

Eugene Anderson is one of the best butchers in Chemawa.

Henry Byrd and Andrew Bittles are Mr. Swartz's best boys.

Most of the teachers have been taking their girls out to pick berries.

Michel Wilson paid us a visit at the printing office last Monday.

Ask Mr. Teabo if the lunch wagon has returned from Falls City yet.

The piano and checker board of Mc Bride Hall are very seldom idle.

All the spare time that the small boys have is spent in picking hazelnuts.

John Briceland is working in the carpenter shop. John is a good worker.

We have two new teams of horses which make a fine appearance on the farm.

The blacksmiths are busy repairing the spring beams for the medium sized boys home.

The B and C Companies are staying out in "Old Chemawa" now they like it out there.

Robert Cameron is getting to be an expert at the banjo judging from the time he began to practice.

The sewing room girls are through sewing carpet rags and are back to their usual work again.

We all expect to hear some fine singing from Alice Williams and Irene Peone on Commencement.

Bicycle repairing at all hours at the plumber shop by William Beach. He understands the business.

Miss Frizzell took a number of girls out walking on Sunday and obtained some cherries.