

LOCALS

Peter Casey arrived Wednesday evening.

The choir sang a very pretty selection on Thanksgiving day.

Wallace Farrow returned from Washington State Wednesday.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Overman congratulate them upon the arrival of a fine baby boy last month.

Pearl LaFlumboise, Daisy Nelson and Liddie Ero, arrived at the school on Wednesday from down the Columbia River.

The Elk's Memorial Service at the Opera House in Salem on Sunday was attended by some Chemawa people. The services were very impressive.

Miss Brown, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Irene attended church in Salem on Sunday. The new bishop of Oregon, Bishop Scadding preached in the Episcopal church.

It is foolish to call the weather we are having here cold. We have not had one bit of ice or snow. Roses are blooming, the grass is green, and yet some say "how cold."

Mr. Weber of Salem addressed the student body with great force on Sunday. The students must bear in mind what he has told of his early life; it really gives us good suitable example to go by in our future lives.

A letter from Mr. Herbert Campbell who is on the editorial staff of the Spokane Chronicle, tells us that Mr. Virgil Earl who coached our football team last year is now the coach of the Lewiston, Idaho, team.

Pupils Items

We are all glad to see Dora Lane and hope she will soon be ready to come to school.

Peter Seltice is elected censor of the Hiawatha club. This is a new office one not in any of the societies.

The sewing room girls are busy making white aprons for the Domestic Science, and apron check dresses for the new girls.

There are quite a number of girls in McBride Hall who have begun taking music lessons. Miss Gertrude Brewer is their instructor.

The sewing room girls have been busy making dining room aprons and work dresses for the girls. But they are going to work on the uniforms again.

Examination in the eighth grade this week. Now is the chance to study hard and carry off the honors of your class. Wonder who the lucky one will be.

The grandest game of basketball was played last Saturday night by the pick up team and the first team, the first team was victorious Robert Brothers was star player of the game.

Mr. Woods, our carpenter delivered a very interesting lecture Monday evening in the school chapel. He talked about planes and how to sharpen the bits and about saws and gave the names of them and the different kinds of tools the carpenter needs.

The girls wish to express their gratitude to the person who in the last issue of the AMERICAN suggested that a collection be taken up for the purpose of buying them warm waists, but to think the boys would be more benefited by the act of charity if the sum collected was invested in a lot of new vests for the boys as that is an article of dress they are seldom seen wearing.