

PUPILS' ITEMS

Edward Curl is back in the carpenter shop.

Harriet Curl has entered the fourth grade.

Claudia Spink was out from Salem last Sunday.

The eighth grade B class began their examination on Tuesday.

Aibert Garry is practicing an Indian song for an entertainment.

Bessie Williams is making herself a pretty blue dress for Christmas.

Haynes Bateman is back at his trade, shoe and harness making again.

Thanksgiving is over and we are all getting ready for Christmas now.

Mr. Woods gave us a very interesting talk on carpentering Monday night.

Martin Sampson gave the boys of Mitchell Hall a lecture on marching.

Violet Berner is working in the hospital and she likes her work very much.

The blacksmith boys are all glad to see Mr. Mann back in the shop again.

The printers worked hard last week in order to get the American out on time.

We had a fine dinner on Thanksgiving. All the employes helped us carve the turkeys.

We are glad to have Jack Frost visit us because his lectures on wearing vests are very interesting.

The tailor boys are glad to see a new boy get in the shop, and we hope he will make a good tailor.

Mrs. Cox takes a great deal of interest in the dining room as she makes the girls do their work neatly.

Dora Lane is back to McBride Hall again after being in the hospital for quite a while.

We are all glad to see Harriet Curl back in school again after her long vacation.

Mr. Williams has been here for the past week visiting his children Thomas and Bessie.

The industrial boys are building a bridge of brush across the swamp back of the new barns.

Some of the school boys are working for Mr. Jones about three miles from the of school picking potatoes.

Christmas is coming. It will spring upon us before we have decided what to choose for Christmas gifts.

The feature of Friday evenings meeting of the Hiawatha's was the "current events" by Charles Bardwell.

Mr. Woods gave a lecture about carpenter tools on Monday which was interesting as well as instructive.

Elsie Lewis and Anna Johnson have entered the fourth grade, and are getting along nicely in their studies.

The dairy boys are busy stowing away bran. When they finish that they will have a few hundred plants to set out.

Miss Miller took four of the girls from the small girls' home out for a street car ride last Sunday which they enjoyed.

The carpenters are hard at work every day of the week fixing the side walk. They will nearly finish it by the end of the week.

Peter Seltice told a good story to the members of the Hiawatha Club at the meeting last Friday evening. We would like to hear him again because he tells some interesting stories.