

LOCALS

Dora Gray and Tillie Souvigner were visitors to Salem last Wednesday.

Mr. Barrett who has several children attending school here is making quite a visit.

The sewing room girls are now making shirtwaists for the McBride Hall girls.

Miss Johnston and Miss Luedke were visitors in the sewing room Wednesday morning.

Mr. Gilbert Carraher of British Columbia spent a few days at Chemawa visiting friends.

Mr. Olney arrived here a few days ago with two girls and one boy, who will enter as students.

Nine girls attended the Gordon minstrels last Tuesday night and report having had a fine time.

Esther Napoleon who is taking lessons from Gertrude Brewer is rapidly improving on the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Teabo accompanied by Miss Jones attended the Gordon Minstrel, last Tuesday night.

Thomas Mullen who has been very sick is now improving, and is expected to be up and around soon.

The girls were disappointed because they could not witness the stubbornly contest, game between the Hiawatha and Excelsiors.

Cyril Morsette who has been working in Portland the last few months is spending the Holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Farrow.

PUPILS' ITEMS

I hope we will have a good time when Xmas comes.

"Christmas is coming and Santa Claus too," slow but sure.

The boys are clearing a calf lot behind the new barn, and are doing nicely.

Did you hear Mr. Chalcraft congratulate the school janitors last Sunday for their fine work?

McBride Hall girls spend their spare time making Christmas presents and their new dresses.

Monday night Mr. Cooper and his dairy boys gave the pupils an interesting talk about dairying.

To those that are not in school. If you are coming you had better come at once for things are rushing just now and we are going to keep this way the year around.

Here is a problem for mathematicians. Only Wednesday morning there were forty five girls in the sewing room, which is a double detail, they done double talking, and how much work?

On Friday the eighth grade had their first practical lesson in cooking. Miss Josie Peone and Peter Casey put the ingredients for molasses together, while Robert Davis did the baking. Mrs. Thiez sampled them and wished she had more.

The Christmas spirit animates the boys and girls these days. One way to reanimate the boys would be to let them go to town and buy presents for the girls so they will be reanimated; it will also reanimate the boys to have the pleasure of animating the girls by buying presents for them.
