

Continued from page two.

James Smith, who left in the early part of the term, writes that he is well and enjoys his work.—Talks and Thoughts.

The University of Wisconsin has turned out an Indian lawyer, its first. He is Thos. L. St. Germaine, a Lac du Flambeau Chippewa, whose family ruled the Chippewas three-quarters of a century ago. He is reported as twenty-five years old, and "a giant in stature," may he prove the same in law, and help his people protect some of their rights.—Ex.

Mr. Winfield Scott Olive, special agent for the Department and formerly chief clerk of the Accounts Division, is here on official business. Mr. Olive has but recently been appointed special agent and it comes to him as a promotion, and his selection for this important position is but a just recognition of his long, faithful and valuable service. The Arrow extends its hearty congratulations.—The Arrow.

Mrs. Lydia Dittes Davis, a former teacher and matron of the girls' quarters at our school was a visitor here last week and her many friends and former associates were congratulating her on the appointment of Mr. Davis as supervisor of Indian School. She left for her home at Fort Totten, N. Dakota.—The Arrow.

The school room work is on a much higher plane this year than last. Great interest and enthusiasm are manifested in each room. Only a visit to the room is necessary to be convinced of it.—Ex.

Walter Rurke has been promoted from the clerkship to the superintendency of the Panguitch Indian School at Orton, Utah, relieving Miss Laura B Work, who has been in Chicago several years.—Ex.

The Native American is printing more than 1700 copies a week. If you send in that club now, we will print 2000 copies. Twenty cents in clubs and sample copies free.—Native American.

The Thanksgiving exercises by the school on the evening before Thanksgiving day were good and well rendered by all. Some dramatic talent was displayed.—Indian News.

The school sold 1028 Bushels of wheat on Dec. 8, to the highest bidder. It topped the Genoa market at the four elevators in Genoa. The wheat was clean from rye etc. and weighed 61 lbs. to the bushel.—Indian News.

The News print-shop has just completed a booklet of twenty-two views of the school. The work is artistically done, which speaks well for the boys.—News.

Last evening the Nonpartei literary Society gave a very excellent program to the school, while the entire program was above the average, the opening address by Tillie Souvigner and the vocal solo by Bessie Chiloquin deserve special mention. The program was as follows: Opening address, Tillie Souvigner; Piano solo, Ella Brewer; Vocal solo, Bessie Chiloquin; Dumb-bell drill, By six girls; Recitation, Helen Harnden; Piano Duett, Margaret Lowry and Esther Napoleon. Sixtet, By six Girls. Subject for debate: Revolved: That farming has brought more wealth to the United States than mining. Affirmative: Principal, Minnie Howard, first col. Irene Peona, second col. Matilda John. Negative: Principal, Lizzie Frazier, first col. Grace Barrett, second col. Anita McLaughlin. The judges were Messers. Campbell, Smith and Brewer and the decision was in favor of the negative.