

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Ignatius Bart will soon be thro with an extra heavy set of work harness.

William Watkins has entered the blacksmith shop we all hope he will be a first class blacksmith.

Mike Smith surprised some of the tailors who have been at the trade longer than he has by the neat work he turned out.

May Mercier is now working in the dining hall and by the way she works any one can see that she enjoys working there.

Frank J. Sorahan, who has been here at Chemawa about four years is doing nicely in the blacksmith shop and he is now studying about horse shoeing.

Mr. John Beck promised the tailors a prize who will make the best pants and coat; so all the tailors are working for the prize.

Some of the tailors have done some very neat work which will give them their standing for the contest that is going on at the tailorshop.

Fred Dick is very busy working at Union suits he is doing nice work and he hasn't been there long but a few weeks; and he will soon be working on pants.

Snow and sleet in Portland but not any in Chemawa just yet and I hope we do not get any because the plumbers have enough work now from the last freeze.

George Scott cut out five pairs uniform trousers last Monday during his period of work in the shop. Mr. Beck says that George will make a good cutter if he will only stick to it long enough.

ATHLETIC

The boys' basketball team is now going through some light practice, as they have games in sight.

The Chemawa first basketball team will go to Eugene next Thursday to play with the Eugene High School.

The girls' basketball team are still hard at work; and are in hopes of meeting the splendid team from Corvallis, who has had the pleasure of beating our girls once already. They are not only anxious to play Corvallis, but they are prepared to meet any team of girls in the State, barring no one.

We will not hesitate to say that we have one of the fastest teams in the state and our way of proving this, is, for every team that we have send challenges to, accept our challenges, and we would certainly play basketball.

The baseball outlook for the coming season is not so bad, as most of our last year's players are here, and by careful training and practice, there is no reason why we can't turn out a fast team. Joe Teabo, our veteran ball player, will be acting again "backstop," Casey and Washoe will do the twirling stunts. On the "Initial Bag" we still have our "Elonagated" Rube Saunders; on second Joe Lane is a clean fielder and covers plenty of ground; short and third are as yet vacant, but there are many good candidates for these two important positions. In the out field, Levi Sorter, Thomas McCully, and Ernest David, can hold their own in any Amateur team. By the loss of two players the team was not weakened to such a great extent. Of course we do not expect to do wonders, but we will assure all opposing teams, that we are in the game, for the sport.
