

LOCALS

Eva Simmons succeeded Sarah Peirce as dining hall sergeant.

Mr. Farrow was on a business trip to Grants Pass last week.

Mrs. Armstrong of Corvallis is visiting her sister Miss Skipton.

Some of our boys went to the theatre on Monday night and enjoyed it very much.

Transportation has been placed for ten more pupils. Chemawa is a popular school.

We are fortunate to have escaped the heavy storm which struck Portland and vicinity.

We expect to have a band concert by the famous Chemawa band, in the near future.

Peter Seltice doesn't believe in going any place without a written invitation approved by the president.

The blacksmith trade is a very popular one among Indians. They can make a good living if they master it.

Mrs. Brewer thinks that the towels we (Printers) send to laundry to wash are very clean—even too clean to wash.

The Y. M. C. A. room which has been in the painters' hands the past two weeks is now finished and ready to be used.

From whispers that we hear it sounds as though a new club is being organized, altho the name has not yet leaked out.

Whenever Pedro Cayago finds he has a few minutes to himself in the printing office, he teaches the printers how to drill with a gun, altho he uses a club for his gun.

Several of the members deserve special mention. The song "Four Leaf Clover" sung by Mr. Boyd was extremely catchy as was "Leader of the Co. B," sung by the quartette, which was sung in real "coon" fashion.

The trombone solo was well executed. Every one enjoyed and appreciated the willingness on the part of the quartette to respond to encores and we hope to hear them again in the near future.

In speaking with a member of the quartette this morning he said they thoroughly enjoyed singing before the pupils who were very appreciative, also spoke of the beauty of the school and grounds and industry of the children.
